

STATE OK'S FUNDS FOR SECOND LOW-LEVEL BORE

The California Highway Commission allocated $10 million for the construction of an additional bore through the Berkeley Hills between Contra Costa and Alameda counties late yesterday afternoon.

The new bore will be a two-lane tunnel parallel to the present Broadway low-level bore.

According to the Department of highways District IV in San Francisco, construction of the tunnel will take approximately three years.

RIGHT OF WAY negotiations for some 12 parcels of land have also been under way for some time.

The new tunnel will be to the north of the existing lanes and it will be seven-tenths of a mile from portal to portal.

THE DEPARTMENT stated that during peak traffic hours there will be directional traffic control, but eventually a four-bore is planned which will provide eight full lanes of traffic under the Berkeley Hills between Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

In the morning hours, according to the department, the present west bound tunnel, in addition to the new two lanes, will flow traffic to Oakland and San Francisco.

DURING THE EVENING hours the present west bound lane will be used in addition to the present east bound lanes, to flow traffic easterly back to Contra Costa County from Alameda County and San Francisco.

As the announcement of the budget approval was made, Senator George Miller (D-Martinez, 17th district) said he had had assurances from the highway commission that the project would have been approved.

Statements followed from Supervisor Mel F. Nielsen, second district Lafayette, praising the work of the county's legislators and the County Highway Advisory Committee over the past years.

Frank Chambers, special representative of the commission earlier had stated that Contra Costa County has done a "good job" of presenting its road needs and problems before the highway commission and the commission has responded to the county's proposed program.

THE SUN HAS also long campaigned that the tunnel be approved by the state as one of the most necessary items to the future growth of Contra Costa County.

Nielsen said that the Diablo Highway Federation has certainly helped to win this victory and the county helped through its Tudor report on future county road needs which has given the board of supervisors a good plan to better the county's road system.

Other items which were approved by the State Highway Commission were not revealed until after The Sun had gone to press. A complete breakdown of the commission budget will be presented in the next edition of The Sun.

Greyhound Commute Fares Will Increase

Commute Group Sanctions Raise; Gets New Buses

The Contra Costa County Commuters Association has reached an understanding with Western Greyhound Lines in which assurance has been given by the Commuters Association that it will not legally oppose the bus company's application for increased commute fares, which are coupled with an offer of three major improvements in service.

The announcement of this agreement was made early this week by Dudley W. Thickens, Commuters Association president, following a series of meetings and conferences held earlier this month with Greyhound officials, at which the Commuters Association was represented by John E. McElahan of Lafayette and Victor Kingston of Orinda.

THE GREYHOUND application, which is scheduled to be filed this week with the California Public Utilities Commission, would result in an increase of $3 a month in commute fares to San Francisco and $2 a month to Oakland with these exceptions: Orinda to San Francisco would be increased only $2.50 a month; Danville-Alamo to San Francisco, $2.50 a month; Orinda to Oakland, $1.50 a month; and Danville-Alamo to Oakland, $1.45 a month.

The application will point out that the request for increase in commuter fares, if approved by the Commission, will be the first such increase in commute rates for this section of the county since Greyhound operations began here in 1941, more than 18 years ago.

Aside from increases in commute rates, the application will also propose a revised system of zones for local and round-trip fares.

GREYHOUND'S application for increased fares will include a three-point program for improvements in service.

The first of these proposes the use of the Bay Bridge Transit Terminal at First and Mission Streets, as well as the Seventh Street Depot, in San Francisco, for the Contra Costa commute service.

A second improvement would be the adoption of a load standard which will provide a more favorable ratio of at least 100 seats for each 90 passengers averaged over any two hour segment of the commute period.

Thirdly, the bus company would replace the older type of transit buses of 1940-41 vintage with more modern, comfortable, air-conditioned buses generally referred to as "silverdies," which are ordinarily used only in long-haul operations.

THE GENERAL consensus of the Commuters Association representatives who have been active in the negotiations is that Greyhound has taken a long step forward toward improving relations with commuter passengers, by inviting them to sit down and discuss these changes.

They feel that the bus company has been diligent in its efforts in recent years in providing improvements, adjustments and additional service when needed, especially at Orinda, where commuters formerly experienced long delays in boarding westbound buses during the early morning hours.

A large part of the credit for the improved situation, according to commuters, goes to John L. Keefe, Greyhound's supervisor of operations for this area, whose untiring efforts, especially during the difficult period of freeway construction, have earned the appreciation of many who daily commute by Greyhound.

Here is a comparison of the present commute rates with the proposed rates in parenthesis which would be effective upon approval of Greyhound's application by the California Public Utilities Commission:

TO OAKLAND FROM:
Orinda, $6.75 ($8.25); Lafayette, 6.75 ($8.75); Walnut Creek, 8.35 ($10.35); Pleasant Hill, 9.90 ($11.90); Concord, 11.45 ($13.45); Alamo, 10.45 ($11.90); Danville, 12.00 ($13.45); West Monument, 9.90 ($11.90).

TO SAN FRANCISCO FROM:
Orinda, $12.00 ($14.50); Lafayette, 14.00 ($17.00); Walnut Creek, 15.60 ($18.60); Pleasant Hill, 17.20 ($20.20); Concord, 18.75 ($21.75); Alamo, 17.70 ($20.20); Danville, 19.25 ($21.75); West Monument, 17.20 ($20.20).

Supervisors Tell 6 Lawyers To Study Muni Court Here

Six attorneys were appointed yesterday by the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors to study the possibility of merging the Concord Municipal Court with the proposed "Walnut Creek Municipal Court" into one municipal district with two departments.

Named to the committee by Supervisors Thomas J. Coll, third district, Concord, and Mel F. Nielsen, second district, Lafayette, were Vernon Patterson, Lafayette; Joseph Longacre, Orinda; C. Terence Ring, Walnut Creek; Samuel Bradbard, Pleasant Hill; and Rudd Sellar, Concord.

THE ATTORNEYS will report to the board whether two separate municipal courts or a combined judicial facility would best serve the interests of the central county legal profession and central county taxpayers.

Nielsen and Coll informed The Sun that they instructed the committee to return an independent study so that the people of the area would get maximum service for their tax dollars.

Meanwhile, attorney Maurice "Yank" Marcus of Pleasant Hill clarified his position on the possible merger of the two courts. Marcus had previously suggested that the board of supervisors consider one municipal district with two departments as a money saving measure.

THE WALNUT CREEK Justice Court may soon become a municipal court if the change of venue requested by an attorney is granted by Municipal Court Judge Louis J. McKannay of Concord.

The suit asks the change of a civil case from the Concord court to the presently non-existent Walnut Creek Municipal Court.

When the judge agrees to the change of venue requested by Edgar Rice, Walnut Creek attorney with offices in Oakland, the case will go to the Contra Costa Superior Court.

If the court proves there are 40,000 residents in the Walnut Creek Judicial District, the judicial district will be changed to a municipal district, according to state law.

MARCUS POINTS out that he is not concerned with where the headquarters of the municipal will be located. This he feels is a problem which can be ironed out by the supervisorially appointed committee.

"The main area of interest lies in savings to taxpayers and a good look into our municipal court procedures," he noted.

Nielsen and Coll agreed that the board would take action based on the recommendations of the special committee as long as the recommendations of the committee pointed to savings in the cost of government.

Dr. Emilio Segre Wins Nobel Physics Prize

By LARRY GLAZIER

International honor came to Lafayette and the central county area this week in the form of a Nobel Prize awarded to Dr. Emilio Segre, 36 Crest Road, Lafayette.

Dr. Segre, 54-year-old professor of physics at the University of California, will share 1959 Nobel Prize for Physics with 39-year-old Dr. Owen Chamberlain of Berkeley, who is currently a visiting lecturer in physics at Harvard University.

THE TWO MEN were honored for their leadership in the UC Radiation Laboratory experiment resulting in the discovery of the antiproton in late 1955.

Drs. Segre and Chamberlain, thrilled with their selection as Nobel Prize winners, were quick to recall that two other physicists played important roles in the antiproton work, conducted in the giant Berkeley Bevatron. And just prior to that appointment, he was made a commander of merit of the Republic of Italy, his native land.

IN NOMINATING Dr. Segre for the faculty research lecturer's post for 1959-60, a UC faculty committee called the antiproton discovery "his crowning achievement," and added:

"These particles had been predicted theoretically many years earlier, and the newly-operating Bevatron had a high enough energy to produce them. But the number produced was small compared to the number of other particles, and Dr. Segre devised a method of great ingenuity and subtlety to find and identify the few antiprotons that entered his apparatus."

"With this discovery, the world of anti-particles was opened up."

FIRST INKLING that the quiet, unassuming physicist had of his selection for the coveted Nobel Prize came last week when San Francisco wirephoto men were sent to his home at the request of the Swedish press.

By Saturday, the Stockholm newspapers devoted a full page to the possibility that Segre and Chamberlain would win the award.

Then, on Monday, after a nervously exhaustive weekend, Dr. Segre received the telegram from the secretary of the Swedish Academy of Science.

TRUE TO HIS OWN nature, Dr. Segre sought to carry on as though nothing had happened. He went to Berkeley, taught all of his Monday classes and met with newsmen and well-wishers intermittently.

The grey-haired Segre joined the staff of the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory at Berkeley in 1938, shortly after he left Italy because of ideological difficulties with the Fascist regime of Benito Mussolini.

He had been an instructor in physics at the University of Rome and chairman of the department of physics at the University of Palermo, where he was one of two men to discover the first man-made element, technetium.

EXCEPT FOR THE wartime period during which he was associated with the Manhattan Project at Los Alamos, Dr. Segre lived in Berkeley until he purchased his Lafayette home in mid-1955.

He and his family are homebodies, relishing the opportunity to lounge around on the backyard patio or delve into the lovely garden which borders their home.

Whenever the professor takes in any of the Bay Area's cultural activities, it is quite likely that his children will accompany him.

HE AND HIS WIFE Elfriede are the parents of a son, Claudio, 22, who is studying comparative literature at the University of Rome; and two daughters, Amelia, 17, a freshman on the Berkeley campus; and Faustina, 14, who attends Acalanes High School.

In about six weeks, Dr. and Mrs. Segre will travel to Stockholm to accept their share of the $42,000 Nobel award, which is to be presented about December 10.

The naming of Segre for one of science's top honors brings to two the number of Nobel winners residing in Lafayette. The other is Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chancellor of the Berkeley campus, who received the prize for his part in the discovery of the element plutonium.

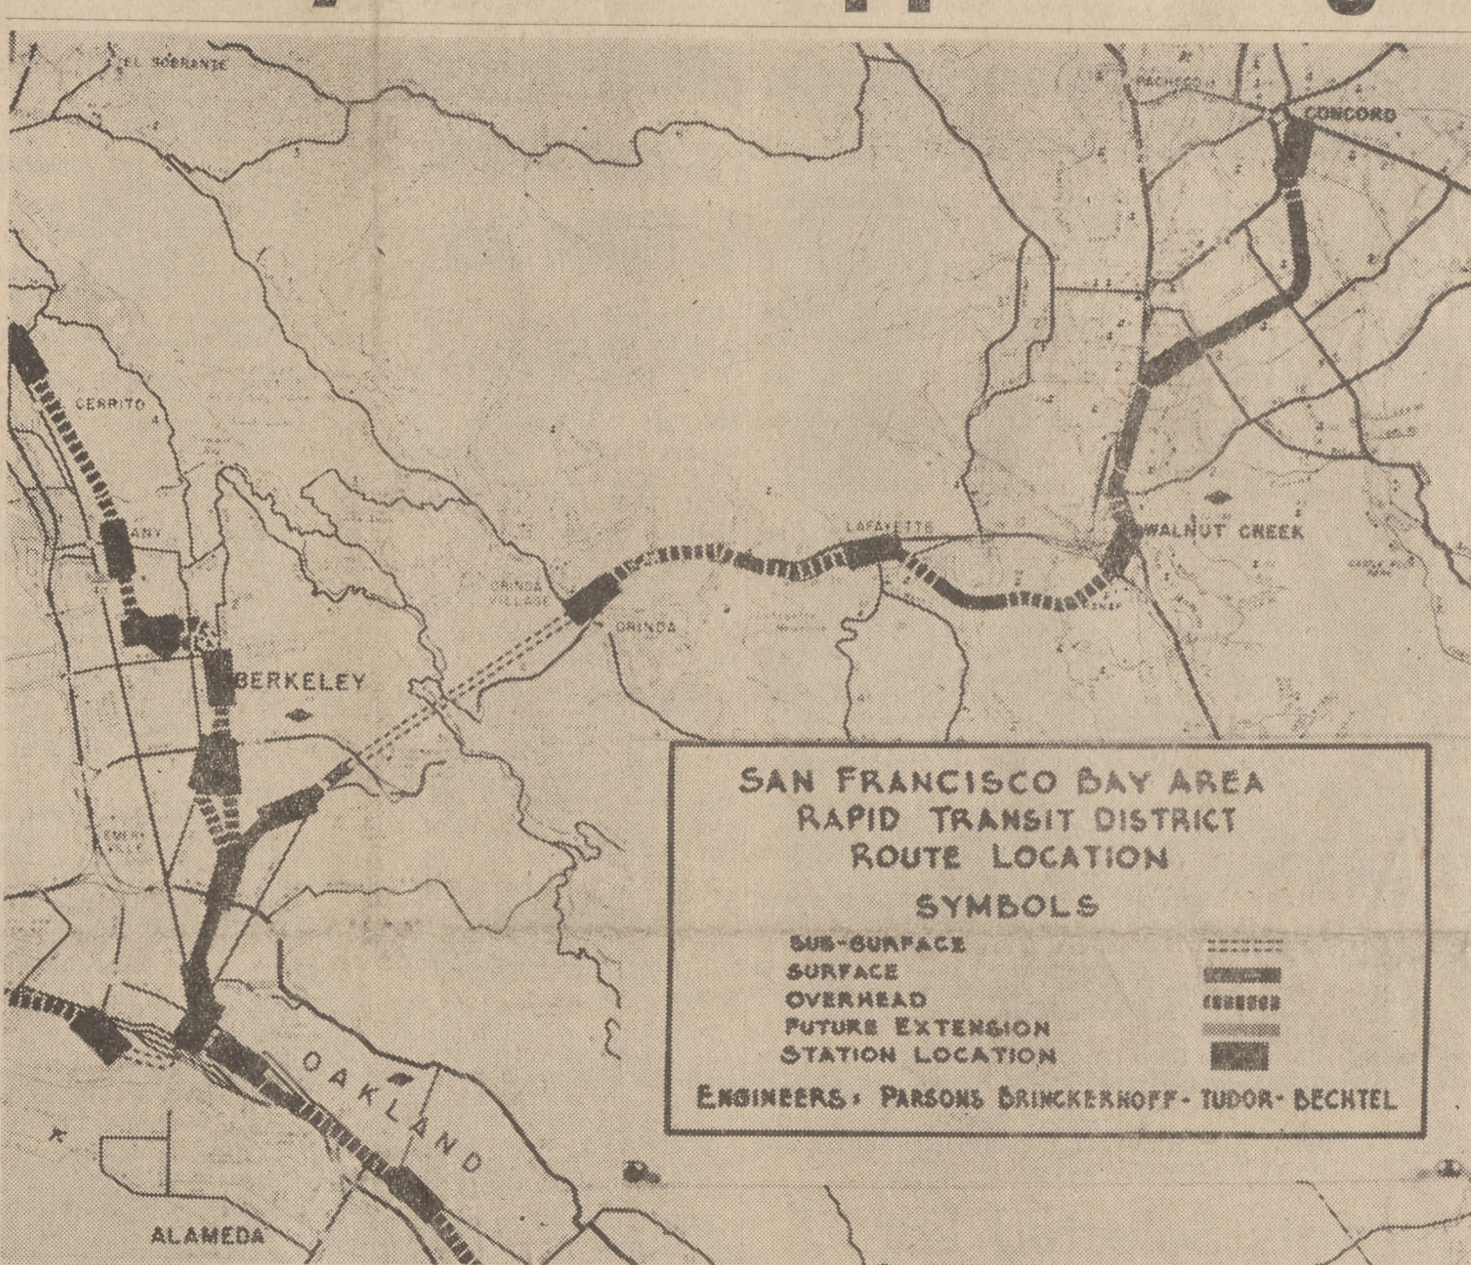

College Director To Visit Counselors

Dayton F. Grafman, director of admissions, National College of Education, Evanston, Illinois, will meet with high school counselors at Miramonte High School, Wednesday at 9:15 a.m.

Grafman will discuss with students the advantages of the elementary teaching profession and the present nationwide shortage of 100,000 elementary teachers.

County Will Appeal Legal Suit

Bay Area Rapid Transit system in Contra Costa and Alameda the five-county Bay Area Rapid Transit District, and is subject to further study and alteration.

Preliminary Recommendations of Bay Area Rapid Transit System Revealed

Preliminary recommendations for the first-stage routes of the proposed Bay Area rapid transit system in Alameda and Contra Costa counties were made public today.

Consulting engineers for the five-county Bay Area Rapid Transit District presented their preliminary recommendations to county and city technical experts of the two counties for further study.

KENETH M. HOOVER, transit district chief engineer, emphasized that the routings are tentative, "and merely the first step in a process leading up to the final recommendations."

Recommended routes in Alameda and Contra Costa counties total nearly 60 miles, including eight miles of subway.

The East Bay routing includes three main segments fanning out from Oakland to Richmond, Concord and Union City — all of which would be connected to the proposed system in San Francisco, Marin and San Mateo counties by a trans-bay underwater tube.

Tentative proposals call for a total of 24 passenger stations in the two counties.

PRINCIPAL STATIONS in the East Bay would be two-level underground stations located at 12th and Broadway and at 20th and Telegraph Avenue in Oakland, both of which would provide convenient interchange facilities for the trans-bay, Richmond, Concord and Union City lines.

The trans-bay route would enter Oakland at the Southern Pacific Mole and run along Sixth and Fourth Streets to the 12th and Broadway station.

From this central station, both the Richmond and Concord routes run along Broadway and Telegraph Avenue, and then in the median strip of the proposed Grove-Shafter Freeway.

THE RICHMOND line leaves the freeway median strip in north Oakland and enters Berkeley on Shattuck Avenue. (Under consideration in this vicinity is a major alternate route near Grove and Adeline Streets to Shattuck Avenue).

From Berkeley, the route travels along the Santa Fe Railroad

Candidates Needed For Directors

Directors of the Orinda Association will meet in adjourned session at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Orinda School to make a second attempt at developing a slate of candidates for five directorships which will expire this year.

All nominations were to have been submitted by last Monday night's regular meeting of the directors, in order for the by-laws of the association to be complied with in the printing up of a ballot no later than November 5, which is Thursday.

BUT WHEN THE directors met with members of the association's affairs committee, they discovered that two areas had not submitted any nominations at all.

The by-laws call for at least two and not more than four candidates from each of the areas be nominated between October 15 and November 1 so that November 5 deadline can be met.

Directors chose to adjourn until Monday night in order to accept nominations then, and to meet again the following week in order to certify the candidates and accept nominations by petition.

THIS WOULD still leave time, according to President Donald Anderson, for the ballots to be prepared and mailed by November 27. The ballots are to be returned by members of the association by December 10.

The areas which have no candidates are those of David Young, including Meadowlands, Lincoln Estates, Hardin Estates, Irvine Estates, Ranchitos de Moraga and Inland Valley, and Harry Booth, including Moraga Del Rey, Caminos, Dos Encinas, Moraga Woodlands, Moraga Knolls and Lost Valley Estates.

Nominations for the other three vacancies are:

ARTHUR PEDERSEN's seat in Sleepy Hollow — Charles Dana and Jack Helms.

E. F. Hockenbeamer's post in Minerinda and surrounding areas — Tom Mann and Colonel T. E. Haley.

Nielsen Answers Moraga Critics' Zone Proposals

Supervisor Mel Nielsen struck back this week at critics who have taken issue with him for not being present during county planning commission hearings on the precise zoning of the Moraga area.

Nielsen said, "It is not my place to be at a planning commission hearing. This is the time for the public of a particular area to air its grievances with the people appointed to sit on the commission. I think it is unfair for persons to criticize me for not being there."

AT A MEETING of the Glorietta Improvement Association Tuesday night, Nielsen promised to visit its grievance with the people appointed to sit on the commission, reaches the board of supervisors.

The supervisors explained, "The supervisors are not going to stall the Moraga hearings, and whenever the planning staff is prepared with a final map, we will act on the proposal by scheduling a public hearing."

He told the local improvement association, in his first public statement on the Moraga issue, that "The county has spent a lot of money on the General Plan for Moraga, and little more than a year ago, everyone seemed happy and agreed with the plan and it was adopted."

"THIS YEAR, a man who has lived here only 14 months moves in to a location three miles from the area under consideration, and wants to keep the whole area residential. The county would have to spend a lot more money to change the plan at this time."

"We are not perfect, and we all can make mistakes, and I'm not saying the plan is perfect, but I cannot see how a man who has lived here for so short a time can successfully attempt to upset the plan."

THE COMMUNITY club, meanwhile, announced that Collings has been appointed chairman of a newly-formed 20-member civic affairs committee for the area.

District Attorney To Ask Rehearing Of Flood Claims

Contra Costa County will appeal the District Court of Appeals' precedent-setting ruling last week that fire districts can sue counties. The Sun learned late yesterday.

District Attorney John Nejedly confirmed that, at the request of Second District Supervisor Mel Nielsen, he is in the process of asking for a rehearing on the high court's ruling.

IF THE REHEARING is unsuccessful, the case can then go to the State Supreme Court, he added.

Nielsen declined to comment on the county's action.

The ruling, issued in San Francisco on the Orinda Fire Protection District's appeal from the Contra Costa County Superior Court, allows the district to continue its suit for flood damages against the county.

In its decision, the superior court had ruled that the fire district did not have the right to sue the county because the suit was not filed within 90 days of the flooding.

DISTRICT COMMISSIONERS and the district's attorney Robert Eshelman, contended that the reason the suit was not filed in time was that the district had relied on the advice of the then-district attorney, Frances Collins, and the board of supervisors.

The county officials, Eshelman said, informed the fire district that any action for damages should be against the contractor, Frederickson and Watson Company, but the county never took action against the firm, and the district then sued the county.

AT ISSUE IS $12,500 damage to the main fire station on Avenida de Orinda in the Village and $708 damage to personal property of firemen on duty.

The district claims flooding resulted from the construction work on the Orinda Village bypass road. It says the rain runoff cut its own channel across the construction zone.

The fire station basement and kitchen were flooded with nearly four feet of muddy water, interrupting telephone service to the station for some time.

Three days later, the fire station was again flooded, when a temporary diversion dam gave way and the waters seeped into the same station two months later, also.

Few Protests Needed To Kill Local City Move

A total of 25 more exclusion requests will automatically end the Sleepy Hollow incorporation attempt, county officials reported late yesterday.

PERSONS DESIRING exclusion from the residential city in the northeast section of Orinda have until Tuesday to submit their requests to the County Board of Supervisors.

At 10 a.m. Tuesday the supervisors will reconvene their public hearing on the proposed incorporation. The hearing was continued from October 20.

Proponents of the incorporation seek to make Sleepy Hollow a minimum service city in order to block any extension of reconstruction of Lombardy Lane, the area's only access road at present, and Washington Lane.

Use Charge on Commercial Only Is New Proposal

Central Contra Costa Sanitary District directors will meet next Thursday at 8 p.m. in the district offices to discuss a new proposal that the use tax, largely replacing the connection fee, be applied to commercial establishments only.

The proposal developed by District Engineer Gerry Horstkotke and attorney John Bohn, is designed to lighten the load on commercial users who in the past have had to consider the connection fee as a "major factor" in their capital investment, according to Bill Dalton, administrative engineer.

The effect of the latest change in the proposed ordinance is that the commercial user (There are only from 600 to 900 of them in the district) will have a light initial payment, and the equivalent of the connection fee will be spread over 90 months.

In the past, single commercial buildings have had connection fees as high as $6700, Dalton said.

Under the new proposal, commercial user would pay about 10 per cent of their present connection charge (with a fixed minimum, however) and the "use" charge would be one per cent per month of what the connection charge would be if levied on the present basis.

"At the end of 90 months, he will have paid as much as the initial connection charge would have been," Dalton said.

Residences would continue to pay their regular connection charges, which runs about $150 per home, according to the large homes now popular. But no use charge at present.

Price Changing Slows Down in County Gas War

Contra Costa's nearly year-old gas war went along quietly this week as prices balanced throughout the central county area.

The end result was that gas prices are approximately two cents higher than they were a week ago.

PRICES IN ORINDA were raised to 29.9 cents for regular on Tuesday and Wednesday, but in Pleasant Hill, where the prices were upped to the same level, they were 27.9 for regular and 29.9 for premium.

Prices were cut in Walnut Creek and Lafayette "Cut Rate" stations, but major oil companies held to their original 29.9 signs.

Yesterday, a number of 29.9 signs were visible along Mt. Diablo Boulevard from Walnut Creek to Lafayette and 27.9 cent per gallon signs were up on Contra Costa Highway from Alamo to Pleasant Hill.

Several operators pointed out to The Sun that a truce had been called, but some operators just won't go along with any group on calling an end to the gas war.

Trick-Treaters Will Assist UNICEF Work

Most churches in the Lafayette-Orinda area are participating in this year's Halloween UNICEF program, and between 5:30 and 7:30 p.m. tomorrow UNICEF goblins will be ringing doorbells in the area.

Mrs. A. W. Kessler, Lafayette-Orinda chairman, urged local householders to save some of their candy money and keep stocks of pennies instead because "some of the trick or treaters will be treating the world's hungry children instead of themselves."

SHE SAID, "A UNICEF penny will buy five big glasses of milk for a starving child."

Filled UNICEF cartons are to be turned in to the various Sunday schools in the area Saturday or, if their church is not participating, the children should return their cartons to the Orinda fire house in the village until 9:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Rathke-Young Court Battle Settled With Compromise

Almost as quickly as the Rathke-Sheriff Young battle started, it ended Monday with a joint announcement of a compromise before the Contra Costa Civil Service Commission.

After two full days of hearings, the commission met Monday at 1 only to recess to private chambers. Within two hours the announcement was made by the attorneys of Sheriff Young and Mrs. Rathke that a compromise settlement had been reached.

THE RESULT was that Sheriff Young dropped his dismissal of Mrs. Rathke and Mrs. Rathke was placed on sick leave until late November at which time she will resign from the sheriff's office.

Humor and heated debate filled the three-day session of the civil service commission between George Gordon, attorney for Young, and Robert Condon, attorney for Mrs. Rathke.

The procession of witnesses included Undersheriff Harry Ramsey, Bela Clark, juvenile control officer, two newspaper reporters, Desmond Teeter, former county administrator, Harry Morrison Jr., Contra Costa Taxpayers Association; Mrs. Inez Bixler, radio dispatcher.

Mrs. Ethel Chaney, sheriff's office; Lowell Sorenson, deputy sheriff, Doris Locke, stenographer in the sheriff's office; Rosa Babb, records division, sheriff's office; Judson Krueger, internal audit supervisor.

RALPH LINDSEY, administrator's office, Joseph Connery, county administrator's office and Bob Rapida of The Sun.

Rapida, in the second day of testimony refused to reveal the source of his information concerning documents he received dealing with personnel matters in the sheriff's office.

After an hour on the stand, Rapida refused to answer one of Condon's questions. Condon asked for an order from the superior court demanding Rapida to testify or be held in contempt of court.

Rapida contended he could not answer the questions on the grounds that his sources of information are confidential.

Rod Lomas, newspaper reporter and photographer, testified he had been chastised by Mrs. Rathke while trying to take her picture, and she had cast aspersions on his ancestry.

LOMAS was followed by a battery of witnesses called by Condon, commenting that Mrs. Rathke had been a "good, capable administrator and a credit to the sheriff's office."

Ramsey was on the witness stand for nearly three hours over a two day period.

Just before the compromise was reached, Mrs. Rathke and District Attorney John Nejedly were scheduled to testify.

Students Selected For Local Science Seminar

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chancellor of the University of California at Berkeley, will present the first lecture for the Miramonte Science Seminar at Miramonte High School in Orinda on Monday evening.

The title of his address to the gifted science students of Miramonte will be "The Nuclear Age."

THE OUTSTANDING science students of Miramonte were selected Friday to participate in the Miramonte Science Seminar.

Out of 100 students initially selected, 23 students were finally chosen for the new science program being initiated in Orinda.

Only one freshman student was selected, Ken White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ken White of 6 Bates Boulevard.

Of the 23 students only two were girls. These were Hilary Brown, a senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lee Brown of 92 Camino Encinas, and Lynn Loveland, a junior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Loveland of 32 Camino Del Pabro.

THERE WERE SIX seniors selected: Hilary Brown, William Brown, Allan Nilmeier, Jerry Overaa, Terry Scheffer and Mickey Wilber. Also six juniors were chosen: Lynn Loveland, William Chew, Richard Miles, Phil Stevens, Barden Wilmar and David Wright.

The sophomore class was represented by the largest number of students selected, 10 in all.

These were Lance Chilton, David Deubner, Mike Eaton, Tom Hutton, Barry Klopfer, Ronald Park, Peter Parrish, Doug Scarff and Tom Strong.

ON THE COMMITTEE that was responsible for the selection of these students was Jacob Shapiro of the Joseph Berg Foundation; Dr. Geoffrey Chew, professor of physics at the University of California; Dr. Chester O'Konski, professor of chemistry at the University of California; and Dr. Stanley Thompson of the Radiation Laboratory.

The students were selected on the basis of their school records, grades in previous science courses, interest in science and scores on a 2 1/2 hour science test given to the students last week by Shapiro.

The Miramonte Science Seminar is a program whereby these outstanding students work with scientists and mathematicians of the community.

THE SEMINAR is the 310th such program in the United States that was begun under the cooperation of Berg Foundation and interested citizens of the particular community.

This is the first such program in the East Bay Area.

Rotary Club Sees PT&T Cable Film

Members of the Orinda Rotary Club saw the installation and placing of the Hawaiian undersea telephone cable without leaving their meeting place yesterday at the Willows restaurant.

The Hawaiian cable was the subject of the Bell System color motion picture, "Pacific Pathway," which was shown by Miss Sidney Hedin of Pacific Telephone.

THE FILM SHOWS the planning of the project, the building of the cable in the Western Electric plants and the laying of the cable by the cable ships "Monarch," "Arthur M. Huddell," and "Ocean Layer" from Point Arena on the Northern California coast to Hanalei Bay on the island of Oahu in Hawaii.

The project was planned jointly by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Hawaiian Telephone Company.

The dramatic presentation was made on the spot and gives a complete picture of the gigantic undertaking.

EBMUD Contracts For New Tunnel; $5 Million Cost

The award of a $4,933,732 contract for the construction of Lafayette Tunnel No. 2, a 15,000 foot long water tunnel, was made by the East Bay Municipal Utility District Board of Directors at their meeting last week, according to William D. McNevin, EBMUD director.

Stolte, Inc., and Fred J. Early Company, Inc., as a joint venture, received the contract. The bid of this East Bay firm was the lowest of 12 submitted.

THE NEW TUNNEL to be known as Lafayette Tunnel No. 2 will extend for almost three miles through the hills from a point near the EBMUD Lafayette Filter Plant, to just north of the district's Orinda Filter Plant on San Pablo Creek.

It will be an integral part of the Third Mokelumne Aqueduct which will bring additional quantities of the district's soft Sierra water to the East Bay upon completion in 1963.

Total construction time for the new tunnel project is 36 months, according to McNevin, with work to begin next month. The tunnel will be excavated from both ends simultaneously on a three-shift basis, and will be a nine and one-half foot diameter circular bore.

ROUTE OF THE TUNNEL is west and generally parallel to the existing Lafayette Tunnel No. 1, part of the present Mokelumne Aqueduct system. The route of both the present bore and the new tunnel is through the ridge north of Charles Hill.

The project will begin at a point about 70 feet east of Sunnybrook Road, McNevin stated. An open cut and cover section of about 400 feet will be required to reach the east tunnel portal.

A detour parallel to Sunnybrook Road will be used while the tunnel section work crosses Sunnybrook Road. Where the excavation interferes with El Nido Ranch Road, a detour will be used to divert traffic to the north and parallel to El Nido Ranch Road.

"THE ACTUAL tunneling operation will be in the conventional manner of drill, blast and muck," McNevin explained.

A train of mine cars will be pulled out of the tunnel about once every five hours, it is estimated. At the east terminus, in Lafayette, the mine cars will be dumped and the spoil transferred by a loader to dump trucks and hauled to a spoil disposal area in Orinda.

Truck hauling of spoil material will be restricted to a 12-hour period from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. The loading station will be north of the freeway overpass east of Sunnybrook Road and south of El Nido Ranch Road.

ABOUT EIGHT to ten truck trips daily will be made on El Nido Ranch Road and North Frontage Road to Diablo Freeway. The State Highway Department has advised that Sunnybrook Road is scheduled to be closed off in November of this year.

Spoil will be placed in a spoil area north of the EBMUD Orinda Filter Plant near the tunnel's west portal.

"It is the intent of the utility district to establish reasonable controls over construction operations," McNevin declared, "to minimize any public nuisance factor."

The contractor will use electric driven air compressors in suitable housing, provide shielding of lights, dust control, maintenance of sanitary facilities and parking facilities for equipment and workers.

"It is the district's sincere desire to do the job with the utmost attention to public convenience and the least possible disruption of present road facilities," McNevin emphasized.

Weather Permitting Huge Fire to Burn in Briones

A comprehensive fire research and fire fighting training session will be held in Briones Valley Monday, according to a joint announcement by Fire Chiefs Frank J. Pereira of the Briones Fire District, and H. Everett Wyatt of the Orinda Fire Protection District.

Participating in the session will be personnel of the California Forest and Range Experiment Station, Contra Costa County fire departments and districts, and the forestry unit of the East Bay Municipal Utility District. Sponsoring the training will be the East Bay Hills Fire Protection Committee.

THE LARGE SCALE training program will be made possible by burning the debris cleared from 250 acres of the Briones Dam site by the East Bay Municipal Utility District, Pereira and Wyatt stated.

Some information on weapons effects is available from World War II experience in Europe and Asia. Shelter experiments also have been conducted by OCDM during nuclear tests in Nevada.

Watch It, Witches! Car Club Plans Night Watch!

Witches and ghosts who are out in trouble will have a tough time of it this Halloween!

Because in Orinda, not only will the local law enforcement agencies be on the watch — they will have a mechanized special patrol.

The Balancers, a car club comprising a dozen Orinda youngsters will assist sheriff's deputies as volunteer watch patrols tonight and tomorrow night in an effort to minimize Halloween pranks and vandalism.

Road Captain Mike Finn explained that the new youth organization wants to try to educate the public away from the idea that every youthful car club is a gang of potential delinquents.

THE BALANCERS already have assisted with roadside litter cleanup in the Orinda-Moraga area on a voluntary basis and have received a letter of commendation from county supervisors.

The club, still seeking a civic sponsor, operates under a constitution framework suggested by the State Highway Patrol.

Flood Fight Procedures Reviewed by Council

A Flood Fight Council meeting was called October 22 by the County Office of Civil Defense and Disaster, for discussion of the possible winter flood conditions.

The Council reviewed the Board of Supervisors resolution of last December 2, concerning emergency sandbag operations.

It states: "1. First priority shall be given by county forces to the protection of its highways, bridges and public buildings and other public works, and to prevention of inundation on an area basis.

2. ANY AVAILABLE residual resources shall be utilized to provide sandbag protection to properties on an individual basis.

3. Sandbag protection to private properties shall be coordinated under the control of the Civil Defense Director in lieu of the past arrangement whereby the Public Works Department and the Sheriff's Department separately conducted sandbag programs.

Traditionally, the sheriff has operated in the Eastern section of the county and the Public Works Department has functioned in the central and western areas of the county."

In the event of possible floods, telephone calls regarding flooding culverts, jammed channels, possible area flooding etc., should be made to the local Public Works Department, and not to the Flood Control Office.

REQUESTS FOR sandbags should be referred to Civil Defense.

A "Do It Yourself" Flood Fight Information Bulletin, prepared by Flood Control, was distributed to the CD. Office, Public Works and areas of possible flooding last winter.

It is hoped that the bulletin will indicate to the public methods by which they can effectively protect their property, and stimulate public action toward self-help in order to economize on the over-all governmental costs during flooding.

The booklet contains diagrams showing flood protection measures which homeowners and businesses should take before flood conditions arise.

IT SHOWS HOW to use common materials to keep water from entering the building through doors and cracks. Sandbags may be used to control direction of water flow.

A wooden baffle described in the bulletin not only gives better protection to a doorway, but it costs only one-tenth as much as would sandbags during the flood itself.

The Council was established last winter to coordinate county government planning for possible winter floods.

It was the county administrator, the civil defense director, and representatives of public works, of the sheriff's department and its communications division, and of the Flood Control and Water Conservation Department.

THE COUNCIL convenes upon call of the Civil Defense Director to evaluate information and reports pertaining to flood or threatened flood conditions that may exist within the county, and to decide what action needs to be taken.

Present at the meeting yesterday were Will H. Perry, Jr., CD director, R. E. Nelson, CD deputy director, Carl Rich, Joe Taylor and Robert Lowe of flood control, Paul Kilkenny of public works, Lt. Robert Fischer and Sgt. Glenn Warden of the sheriff's office, and Barbara Burton, Eleanor Daly and Rusk Rigor CD deputy directors.

Why Does a Child Steal? Experts Offer Reasons

Although any aberration of conduct stems from basically the same reason, according to a panel of speakers experienced with juveniles, seven reasons for stealing were set down by them at a recent meeting of the Mt. Diablo Council P-TA.

They are: 1. An attempt to avoid an unpleasant situation.

2. An attempt to achieve a compensatory action.

3. An attempt to build up the ego.

4. AN EGO satisfaction by revenge attitudes.

5. An antagonism to authority.

6. Self-satisfaction in a response to instinctual urges (trying to grow up quickly), and

7. The wish for punishment.

JOHN DAVIS, director of Probation for Contra Costa County, said the boy or girl who shoplifts is "Trying to get caught."

He said many children find it easy to correct their behavior by the very act of being caught. But this act, from the standpoint of Louis Ruybalid, secretary of Community Welfare Council, is only a symptom of a greater act in the life of the child.

He is giving a warning that something is missing in his life, and asking society for help, Ruybalid said.

"This breach of conduct, and deviation from standard is of interest to society for helping these children," said Lt. Robert Bahl, juvenile officer, Concord Police Department.

"If children are what they are today, it is because adults are what they are," Adrian Hurst, representative from the El Monte Merchants' Association, remarked that children see their parents taking things, and why shouldn't they as well?

A FATHER brings things home from a shop, factory, or other place of employment, or a mother snatching a piece of fruit as she walks through the supermarket, can cause children to feel that they can expand these privileges to meet their own needs.

Hurst said most shoplifters don't steal an article, because they haven't the money to pay for it.

It may sometimes be an act prerequisite to club membership.

With the apprehension of the suspect, and despite the cooperation of the Police Department, many parents take an aggressive role against the merchant who presses charges.

THUS, THE MOST important contact is the parent, and the realization that juvenile officers are dealing with childish adults, whose interests must lie in the intent of the child who practices shoplifting," he said.

Lassitude on the parents' supervision of children's activities, and the window shopping and idling through newly constructed shopping centers.

Our new suburban areas, of vastly growing dimensions, now have 331 agencies to assist us with questions and problems of children.

Under the direction of Robert Morris, consultant in guidance and welfare, Mt. Diablo School District, moderator in the absence of Morgan Greenwood, panel speakers and members of the Council agreed that agencies need the help of parents to curb the shoplifting problem with children.

Vance Perry, of Walnut Creek has been elected a director of Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

Perry will fulfill the unexpired term of Claude McPhee of the Contra Costa County Sanitary District, who resigned October 13.

Perry will head the Publicity Committee.

A door-to-door canvass is underway in Diablo Valley, including Pleasant Hill and Danville, Alamo, San Ramon areas, to raise $18,675 for the 1959 residential drive, Donald D. Doyle, Diablo Valley United Crusade chairman said.

"The women are doing a conscientious, thorough job of soliciting homes where those unemployed, retired or who have not been approached on the job may have an opportunity to participate in this year's drive."

It would be most helpful if residents placed the "We Gave" stickers on their windows so that they can be bypassed by the doorbell ringers," Doyle requested.

Fromm Pleads to Three Counts of Passing Checks

Fred Fromm, formerly of Walnut Creek, pleaded guilty Wednesday in the Alameda County Superior Court to three counts of forgery, and he is waiting sentence at the Alameda County Prison Farm, Santa Rita.

The sheriff's substitution in Lafayette reported that Fromm is wanted for allegedly passing a series of fictitious checks in the Central Contra Costa County area.

FROMM reportedly cashed checks at a number of local establishments, including Payless, Chet Arthur's Liquors, Lafayette Food Center, Tiny's Hut, and Danny Van Allen's.

He was arrested by Alameda County.

3 More Arrested In Sheriff Pinball Payoff Cleanup

A bartender and two pinball machine playing customers were arrested Saturday night by the Contra Costa County Sheriff's Office Vice Squad in Lafayette's Shillalah.

Arrested at 11 p.m. by plainclothes investigators James Steffensen and Arthur Hagist were John Warren Hughes, 33, of 958 Janet Lane; his wife, Lois, 30, and bartender Albert Theodore Werner, 52, of 41 Wayne Court, Walnut Creek.

The three were booked into the county jail at Martinez on charges of gambling. Early Sunday they were released on $262 bail each.

The pinball machine, a Bally "Ice Frolies" apparatus, was confiscated and brought to the evidence room at the sheriff's headquarters in Martinez.

Hagist reported that he and Steffensen observed Werner making a payoff of $2 to Mr. and Mrs. Hughes after the Hughes' had won eight games on the 25-cent-a-game machine.

PETROLEUM AND ENERGY

By 1975, according to the National Automobile Club, petroleum alone will have to supply us with more energy than do petroleum, coal, water, and the atom today.

Archer and Gile to Play at Las Lomas Meet Tonight

Frances Archer and Beverly Gile, who will bring their popular program of international songs and ballads to Walnut Creek tonight at the Las Lomas High School Auditorium under the auspices of the Acalanes Community Concert Association, have added a new dimension to the old and respected art of folk music.

Youth and glamour a la Archer and Gile is the new element which, combined with stylish musicianship and an unusual repertoire of folk ballads in 13 languages, has made this talented pair a refreshing addition to concert stages throughout the country.

"THEY ARE COMELY, beautifully gowned and groomed young ladies who have a way with a song," said the New York Times after their Town Hall recital debut in 1955. "Their style, their rhythm, the very color of their voices change as they rove through assorted countries, centuries and languages. Their way is communicative, and personal."

That Frances Archer and Beverly Gile have indeed gone far in their profession is evidenced by a sheaf of flowing critical notices from papers, large and small throughout the country and an ever-increasing personal popularity with audiences who delight in their rare combination of musicianship, charm, warmth and obvious love of singing. Firmly established today as particularly bright stars in their chosen field, the team of Archer and Gile has also been recognized by mass media as "sure-fire entertainment." The young ladies have made television appearances on such widely different programs as the Arthur Godfrey Show, Dave Garroway's "Today," the Ford Foundation's "Omibus," Steve Allen's "Tonight," and Walt Disney's "Mickey Mouse Club."

They have performed many times for radio audiences, and as recording stars for Walt Disney Productions they have recorded several highly successful albums including: "A Child's Garden of Verses" and "Folk Songs from the Far Corners," and most recently "A Community Concert with Archer and Gile" which is predicted to become a "standard classic" in the field.

BULES DO BURN OUT Traffic signal light bulbs are like all others in that they burn out, warns the National Automobile Club. If you see no signal ahead when approaching a light-controlled intersection, don't assume that the lights have been turned off. Have a look at what is showing on the cross street before you drive ahead.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

That's the way the Broom flies!

HALLOWE'EN coming on Sat., the children get a dividend day for costumes & candy. Will it NEVER END?

By the looks of the jr. sized parties planned, it will be a pleasant stay-at-home wknd. for Mom & Pop, except for the chauffeuring to & from, the tag-along for Trick 'n' Treating.

Accdg. to Margaret Kessler, UNICEF lady in Laf. Orinda district, cartons to collect for same are available at both St. Stephens & Orinda Community Church until after noon today & then you can pick them up at Orinda Fire House.

For children more charitable than sweet-toothsome, grades Kndgt. thru 8th may solicit if accompanied by an adult (portion 1 to 3). Cartons to be returned to Capt. Guido at the Fire House who'll dispense a Thank You & light refreshments. Much better a dollar for this or AFS Fund than lollipops & licorice & cavities till Kingdom Come!

(Hallowe'en & Xmas are the only times of the yr. that Dr. Garbarino's boys are allowed candy!)

WONDER if the kiddies still tell Ghost Stories making up those scary endings that used to send chills up & down our spine. And is there a Mother who hasn't read Little Orphan Annie to her kids & when she comes to "The Goblins'll getcha if you don't watch out!"—gets just as big a kick out of it as they do? & wasn't it William, Willie, Will or Bill who kept seein' skeery things at night?

HALLOWE'EN, stay warm! Nothing mars your magic more than a freezing wind while tots & teens are floating around in sheets & shivery costumes. Nothing spoils the School parade more than a congregation of cold mothers watching their cold children.

So Shine on, Sun, & HARVEST MOON. Keep the frost off the pumpkins & the apple cider fruit-fly free. (Oh, do try those last few words fast!) You can rain all you want next wk., but stay pleasant & pretty this Big Day for the kiddies!

Look what's brewing . . .

SIMMERING IN SUBURBIA . . . like pease porridge hot & pease porridge cold, some like it in the 80's, 9 days long. . . A profusion of sunback dresses on the scene, some obviously right out of the summer storage boxes. (Oh, just wrinkled from the heat?) Shorts & shirtsleeves or tweeds & topcoats, it's a Toss-up.

THE MANY MOODS of Fall & the sun filters thru the trees at different angles now, playing Hide & Seek in your house, a new sunny spot in every room. We've got lilacs in bloom, imagine! & mildew on the begonias. The squirrels, storing their supplies are being downright noisy about it & they're ALL beginning to sound like ALVIN the Chipmunk!

If you have Oaks on your land, you've been deluged w/a down-pour of acorns that barrage you like bullets. They bang down HARD & if you're hit, it feels like you've been deliberately fired at.

SATURDAY last, a band of brand new bright-eyed CUBS clambering into cars in Hagstrom's Pkg. lot for a trip to the Oregon State-Cal. game. Some suggesting to Bill Little that he & the other 3 fathers (9 boys to 1 DAD) should be equipped w/Radar to keep track of the kids in the mob. . . Some of the newest Bobcats insisting on wearing their crisp blue shirts & pretending not to notice the sun, damp & dry, humid & hot, beating down, sometimes soothing, sometimes mercilessly.

A FAR CRY from the weather in Iceland from whence one new set of Pack Parents came to this country 16 yrs. ago—At the pre-football gathering, we met pretty Asta Loa Olafson who w/her husband Sven & their 4 children (Oli, Eric, Grete & Katrin) are now living on Las Piedras, having moved, not too far back, from Berkeley. And Asta Loa's accent has just a trace of the Nordic but Nice!

WHICH reminds us: Kids nowadays have names that sound like monikers only MOVIE STARS used to have. Just make a list of your child's classmates & see for yourself. They're all absolutely alliterated, utterly euphonious!! Dana Dildoon, Pamela Peroxide! And how's this for being different? Painter Jonathan Bachelor's 3 children's names are Egl, Tara & Mya. His wife Sigrid, a blonde Viking-type, says each one's name suits him or her to a T. (Flash! Sigrid's hair is now blue-black.)

THE HOT AFTERNOON & a trip to the store after a long hard day at the rake & hoe. . . Miles Sutcliffe jumping jauntily out of his Imperial, a perfect Ad not just for the Imperial, but for his new Vitamin-dispensing House recently oped across from Cap's in Oak. . . Mary Gray, barely visible behind a Big Bag of Groceries, telling about the Legal LAIDY's annual Christmas Cargoes which this yr. will have GOS of Goodies available from the finest shop, to take place in the brand new Jack London convention hall just christened this wk. in J.L. Square. (Wonder if J.L. minds having "Square" after his name, in this day of jazzy jargon. . . Then there's Washington & Pershing & Copley to worry about—Oh, forget it!)

Just Batting Around . . .

Back to our Cub Scout Clan, we made the acquaintance of another newcomer from the East—Esther James who w/her husband Walton & their 4 youngsters & 2 dogs are still busy w/the level & lumber at their new home on El Dorado. (That's a little street nestled between El Toyonal & Mariposa Lane & you'd never find it in the dark, but it's there!) Via Lake George, NY & Penna., the family are enjoying it HERE!

TWIN BROS. w/what we'll bet were the shiniest brown shoes at the stadium & VERY Neat in their uniforms were Charles & Linwood Loring who belong to Cmdr. & Mrs. C. L. Loring & have recently transplanted from Levittown, Pa. . . Down in the former Jim Davidson house on Los Conejos live Leroy & Ruth Kerth w/their 3 children Norman, Randall & Christine, having moved from the college town through the tunnel.

ALL THIS from a small area in our neck of the woods. What's new or Who's New in YOURS?

MISS the tall Ron Partridge, photographer of the glib tongue, & all his carrot-topped kiddies? They've moved into Berkeley having lost their Bear Creek house to the Briones Dam.

Her friends are greeting Barbara Wayne w/"What's Cooking?" & No Wonder! In the new Circle V Cookbook, "Simmering In Suburbia" (avail. at Ogden's), there's a recipe from Barbara on just about Every Page. Even some of HERS w/other people's names on them!

The Lovick Pearces (Tanita Van Duyn's parents) jetted in recently from a European jaunt. . . There are THOSE who saw "Das Matterhorn" on the Village Shopping Bldg. & got all excited. They thought it was a new continental Beer Garden. Or Coffee House. Ken, Ben & Mary, who open w/Capt. Satellite in costume tomorrow nite, have done all the interior themselves, hand-crafting the shelves & hand-carving the counter designs. Another come-in, they'll sell European paintings!

Tripping to Sac. last Sunday were Muir Sorrick, Nancy Mulvaney & Helen Stark, 3 of our new 'Friends of the Orinda Library,' who sat in on a stimulating session for the 64th annual meet of the Calif. Assoc. of Libraries. Chief speaker was Lawrence Clark Powell, distinguished UCLA Librarian, author & bibliophile.

William Nickerson, author of the Best Seller "How I Turned 1,000 into a Million in Real Estate" stressed the asset of the hospital to the community when he addressed a group at Las Lomas Wednesday for the new John Muir Hospital.

NICKERSON, somewhat stunned by his Celebrity Status (his book is printed in 8 languages) has had to turn himself over to an agent & is living the life of plane tkts. & a lecture itinerary, playing to packed houses all over the country. He'd rather stay home & putter in his Danville garden.

Private Eye Adds Handlery Case

Further testimony by William V. (Peekaboo) Pennington, Piedmont private detective, concerning his alleged retainment for $10,000 by Mrs. Paul R. Handlery, hotel owner and Orinda resident, was received this week in Oakland Superior Court.

He gave detailed accounts to the effect that Mrs. Handlery hired him to spy on her husband last year, with the objective of obtaining evidence on her husband last year, with the objective of obtaining evidence for a divorce action.

Pennington said Mrs. Handlery still owes him $8100.

The judge has refused a request by Mrs. Handlery's attorney to stop Pennington's testimony concerning the husband's private life and the showing of movies taken by Pennington.

Pennington's attorney this week was to call a San Francisco dancer, Inez Torres, to the stand to relate her relationship to Handlery, who is a resident of 13 Virginia Drive.

A jury of six men and six women is hearing the case.

Commissioners Ask Special Zone

Commissioners of the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District, at a special meeting Monday night, finalized their plans to ask the County Board of Supervisors to establish a separate special tax zone in the Moraga area of the district.

Stanford White, secretary of the board of commissioners, said the request will be based on recent studies of the commissioners which indicated that a substantial portion of the Moraga area fire protection expenditures are being paid for from taxes paid by the district's other areas.

THE REQUEST will be made to the supervisors as soon as White completes a set of recommendations designed to create a more equitable distribution of the district's tax burden.

A public hearing then will be held by the supervisors.

As a result of present forecasts of district revenues for 1960-61, White said, the commissioners will recommend that the tax rate in one A, the special zone, be increased from the present 72.9 cents to 85 cents.

THIS WILL RESULT in a decrease in the rest of the district from the same 72.9 cents to 47.8 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

According to White, Zone A would include the entire Moraga area west of the San Ramon School District boundary along Bollinger Canyon Road.

It would encompass all of the Moraga and Canyon school districts and part of the Orinda Union School District.

MARY ANN WOHLERS, daughter of Mrs. Mary C. Wohlers, 347A Toyonal, will be one of 80 Aggies who will show their animals at the 1959 Little International Livestock Show. The show will be held tomorrow on the Davis campus of the University of California, where Miss Wohlers is a freshman.

Local Youth Joins Campus Frat

Line VanUmmersen, 936 Hawthorne Drive, has pledged Phi Kappa Tau fraternity at the University of California, Berkeley.

His mother, Mrs. Charles VanUmmersen, was among the 21 new pledge mothers honored at the October meeting of the Phi Tau Mother's Club.

Mrs. Paul Albright of Lafayette, president of the Mothers Club, announced that Phi Tau's were fourth highest scholastically on the Berkeley campus last semester and that the Mother's Club is planning a luncheon card party November 5 to raise funds for a scholarship fund for the boys at the house to encourage them to maintain their high standing.

Tickets for the card party are available from Mrs. Albright, Mrs. Ray Holland and Mrs. VanUmmersen of Lafayette.

CORRELATIVE PASSAGES from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include (391:13): "It is error to suffer for aught but your own sins. Christ, or Truth, will destroy all other supposed suffering, and real suffering for your own sins will cease in proportion as the sin ceases." The Golden Test is from Proverbs (15:29): "The Lord is far from the wicked; but he heareth the prayer of the righteous."

Unique Joint Concert to Be Given at St. Mary's

A musical "first" will take place at Saint Mary's College Thursday, when two of the Bay Area's outstanding musical groups appear in joint concert for the first time.

The Berkeley Chamber Singers, with Robert Paul Commandy conducting, and the Berkeley Baroque Ensemble, directed by Martin Dangott, will present a program of Renaissance and Baroque music under the auspices of the Saint Mary's College Committee on Lectures, Art and Music.

SPECIALIZING in rendition of the chamber music of the 16th, 17th and 18th centuries, sung and played as it was then, using the style and instruments of the period, both groups have long been popular with discriminating Bay Area audiences.

The Baroque Ensemble, composed of professional musicians from the area, includes Herbert Holtmann and David Mallory on the violins, Helen Stross on the violinello, Ray Bogas on the harpsichord and recorder, and Dangott on the violin and recorder.

In the program at Saint Mary's, the Chamber Singers will be featured in choral numbers for mixed voices in the polyphonic style favored by the English Renaissance composer, William Byrd, and in other works exemplifying the polyphonic styles of the Dutch, Italian, French and Spanish schools of composition. Included will be works of Sweelink, Marenzio, Costeley and Vittoria.

THE "SONATA FOR Three Violins and Continuo" by Giovanni Gabrieli, whose music is a bridge between the Renaissance and Baroque periods, will be performed by the Baroque Ensemble, as will chamber music of the Baroque period represented by the Sonatas of Vivaldi and Telemann, the principal composers of the Italian and German styles.

The two groups will combine their talents in the final portion of the program with three numbers from the early Baroque period which are illustrative of the cantata form which Bach was to perfect in a later day.

They will perform "Die mit Traenen Saen" by Hermann Schein; "In Dulci Jubilo," by Samuel Scheidt; and "Das Neugeborene Kindelein" by Dietrich Buxtehude.

The concert will begin at 8 p.m. The public is cordially invited. There will be no charge for admission.

Farm Bureau Women to Hear Doctor

Contra Costa Farm Bureau Women's county officers, committee chairmen, group leaders and home advisors will meet at 10 a.m. next Friday at Farm Bureau Hall, 5554 Clayton Road, Concord.

The American Cancer Society is sponsoring the speaker, Dr. James W. Eldred of Pleasant Hill. He will talk on "Time and Two Women."

Mrs. Truman Crockett of Live Oak, vice chairman for the county, will preside at the business session.

Mrs. Paul Somerhalder of Knightsen, county chairman, will be in Los Angeles as delegate of Contra Costa Farm Bureau Women to the California State Convention of Farm Bureau Federation November 9-12.

Rabid Skunk Killed in Moraga Area

"Another rabid skunk has been found in the county," Dr. John Baier, assistant health officer, said.

He explained that the skunk had been found in the yard of a family that lives on Bollinger Canyon Road, near Moraga. The family had been awakened by a commotion early Saturday morning, October 24, and later found the skunk.

It was either killed by a dog in the yard or brought from nearby to the yard.

There have been seven rabid skunks and one rabid dog found in Contra Costa County since July 1 of this year.

These were found in almost all areas of the county and usually in close association with homes and family pets.

The dog that developed rabies was actually chained in its own yard when attacked by a rabid skunk.

Rabid animals lose their natural fear and will wander aimlessly into school playgrounds, yards and even homes if doors are left open.

Because of this, rabies is an ever present threat in our county, especially for pet owners. The constant threat can be minimized by rabies vaccination of all dogs.

The dog that developed rabies had not been vaccinated. Fortunately, the dog involved with this latest rabid skunk had been vaccinated. The likelihood of its developing rabies is much reduced. Dog owners are reminded that the present law requires vaccination of all dogs over four months of age as long as the county remains a rabies endemic area.

One Man Takes Action.... You Pay the Bill!

It is unfortunate that the residents of Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek and part of Pleasant Hill must depend upon the whim of an attorney to keep the costs of court actions down, but that's the way it is with us.

With the establishment of a municipal court in Walnut Creek — which is inevitable unless one attorney changes his mind — the costs of court action in the Walnut Creek Judicial District will increase tremendously.

For instance, in 1956-57, the net operating profit of the Walnut Creek Justice Court — the same court we have now — was $42,513.35.

But it is estimated that a municipal court will COST some $30,000, and this figure does not include the salary of a bailiff, which is paid by the county.

IT IS TRUE THAT the higher filing costs involved in municipal court action will bring in additional funds, but hardly enough to offset the cost of the court.

It is inevitable that the central county area will get a municipal court.

But the need is not here now. Following the next general census, next year, the population of the area encompassed by the court would be officially established and so would a municipal court.

But this probably would not have happened until 1961 at the earliest, and probably 1962.

But then an attorney, Edward J. Rice, who practices in Oakland and lives in Lafayette, filed a request with the Concord Municipal Court for a change of venue to the Walnut Creek Municipal Court.

OF COURSE, SUCH a court does not yet exist, but with such a request on file a simple population check is sufficient to establish the court.

And this must be done, by law, unless the attorney withdraws his change of venue request.

So every resident within the boundaries of the Walnut Creek Judicial District is affected by the decision of this attorney that we should have a municipal court.

The hearing on the change of venue is scheduled to be heard at 1 p.m. next Friday, and unless Mr. Rice changes his mind — and there is no reason to suspect that he will — we will have a municipal court very shortly thereafter.

It is interesting to note that most local attorneys have cooperated in this matter and have not filed change of venue requests, although they have certainly had the opportunity to do so.

We simply do not need the added facilities of a municipal court at this time... or the added cost. Eventually, certainly, but not right now.

THE MUNICIPAL COURT in Concord is close enough for actions requiring a municipal court.

We were not opposed to the establishment of a municipal court in Concord, because previously it was necessary for attorneys and residents to travel to Richmond for municipal court actions.

This was obviously not a workable situation.

We feel that it is an unfortunate situation, to say the least, when over 40,000 residents have an expensive measure like a municipal court forced upon them by one man.

We urge this attorney to withdraw his action while there is still time. We will get a municipal court eventually, and we will need it. But now is not the time.

There is one other possibility. It has been suggested that a single municipal court be formed, covering the entire area now covered by the Concord Municipal Court and the Walnut Creek Judicial District.

SUCH A MUNICIPAL court could have two departments and there would be an eventual saving to the taxpayer... to you... in that a single marshal and chief clerk could operate for both courts.

In addition, the calendars of the two courts could be so scheduled as to save time for all concerned.

So, if we must have a municipal court in Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Alamo, and Orinda and Moraga now, this would seem a more logical situation, but this action would be up to the board of supervisors.

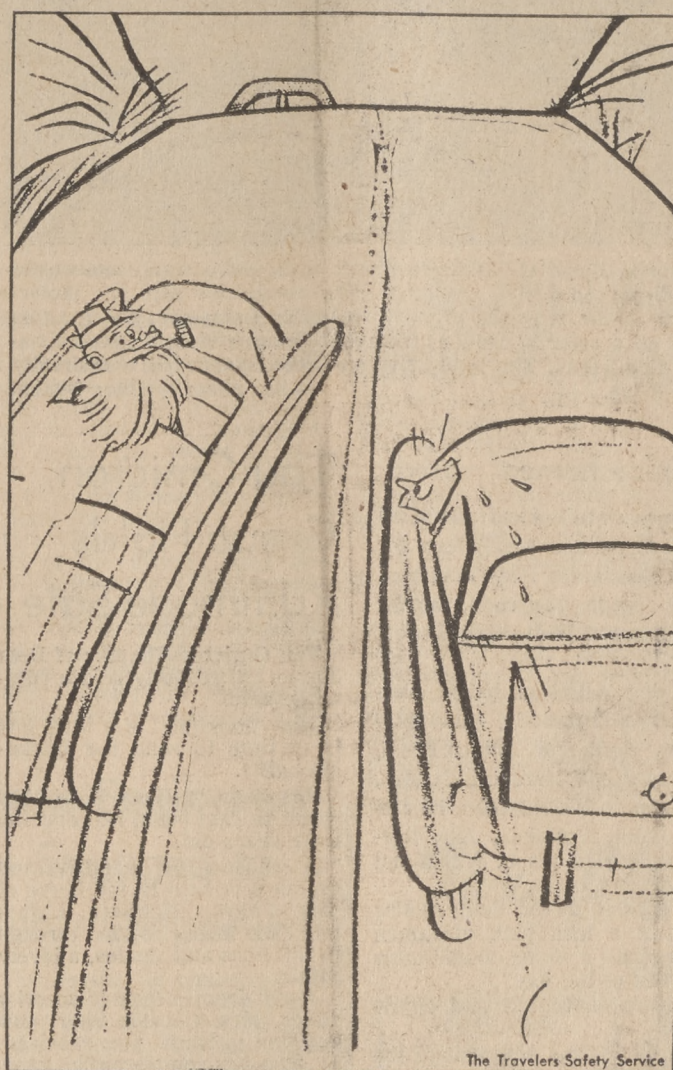

Frankly, it looks like we're stuck with it this time.

We Like It Here... A Little Witchcraft & Some Witchful Thinking

By MARIE MONAHAN

SOMETIMES I get it into my head—that someone else I am instead:

Sweet and spruce, like Clare Booth Luce
Talking to the diplomats
Or else I'm wearing Hedda's hats.

LIKE Sylvia Porter
A whiz at finances
or Maria Tallchief
on tippy-toe dances!

I can't control this terrible yen. It's there right now, then gone again!
I'd like to have the kind of mind of Helen Keller—or just the face of Prince Grace! I'd arch by eyebrows, Hallelujah, and give it a go as good old Tallulah.

I sometimes long to act in plays, like Lynne Fontaine or Helen Hayes, or cut a decorating caper with depth and dash like Dorothy Draper.

(But being Babs Hutton or somebody's "Bubbles" would only lead to dreadful troubles!)
IT OFTEN creeps into my cranium, that someone else I'd like to be—

Like that fantastic Auntie Mamium
Or do "My Day" like Eleanor D.
In lavender I'd look like Kim or Rozzie Russell, svelte and slim or Have insatiable verve and vim of
Ginger Rogers or Dinah Shore
Sing songs like Bea Lillie, (then
I WOULD look silly!)

Better to be a Gilbreth, my dear—a time-saving efficiency engineer!

(No matter who else I'd LIKE to be
I'm kinda glad that I'm just ME!
BUT to him on the air like M. M. McBride, a host of celebrities there by my side or heaven forbid, like Elsa I'd spar and hold my own with TV's Jack Parr.

I've often envied Arline Francis. (She's full of puns and pep and prances!) WERE I in Kathryn Murray's place, I'd make Arthur lose his worried face!

When the youngster pale and all, I fancy myself Flo Nightingale with calming voice, cool hand on brow—instead of a crossyboss haudfrau. (The children! They say to be, "Oh, Mother!
You look like Clara Barton, honest, none other!")

SO, if you don't mind, I'll beg your pardon. I'm off to the salon of Elizabeth Arden. I'll whip up a costume like Chanel or design a hat like Schiaparelli and come out looking just like—

Well, now I'll sign this little ditty, Sincerely yours,
MRS. WALTER MITTY.

Dear Editor:

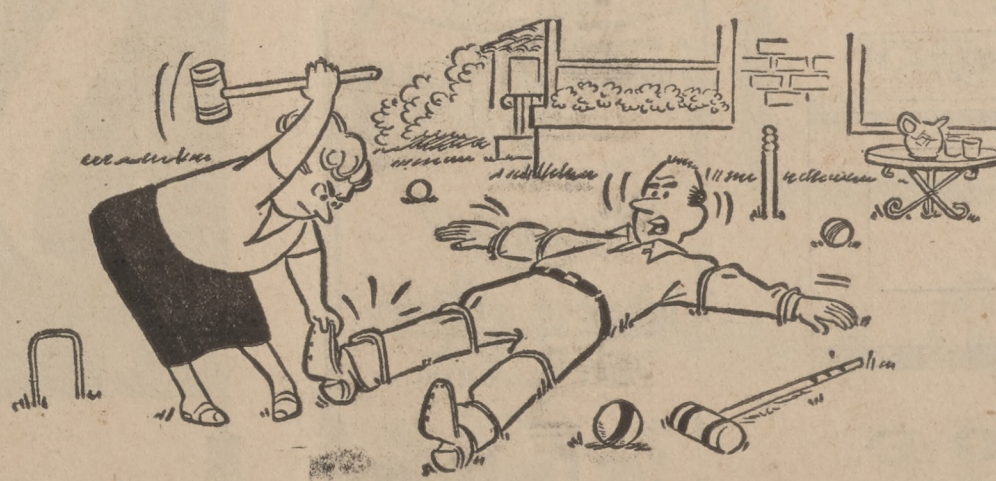

I wish to thank you and your assistants, Dick Osborn, Norman Colby, Larry Glazier and Bob Rapida, for conducting the publicity workshop October 20. Your discussions were most enlightening and enjoyable, too. I also appreciate the pamphlet that was given to me.

Here's to better and better publicity from all us amateur newshounds.

WOMEN SPEAK

Dear Editor:

Observing National Newspaper Week, the members of the Women's Club of Walnut Creek wish to take this opportunity to express our appreciation to the Walnut Creek Sun for its interest and co-operation in publicizing our social, philanthropic, and service projects.

We also thank you for sponsoring the Publicity and Public Relations Workshop which proved to be very helpful.

MRS. ARTHUR H. LARSON

SHERIFF YOUNG

Dear Editor:

The time has now come when it is necessary for the citizens of Contra Costa County to speak up and voice their opinions regarding the recent so-called "vice" investigations of the sheriff's department.

It is obvious that the "political" maneuverings of Attorney General Stanley Mosk have backfired. The grand jury found no evidence of dishonesty in the sheriff's department.

SHERIFF WALTER Young has been the brunt of many unfair accusations. For years, the sheriff's department had been notifiably disorganized, operating with a manpower shortage and hampered by low morale.

The grand juries before Sheriff Young took office attested to this.

It is inconceivable therefore that one man could be personally responsible for so much after taking office only in January.

MY OPINION is shared with the many in commending Walter Young for his dignity through all of this.

It is not difficult to assume, if a vote were taken among the citizens of Contra Costa County, they would re-elect him unopposed and wholeheartedly approve his dismissal of Mrs. Ruth Rathke.

Mrs. Rathke's reputation as "sheriff" existed for too many years. The job is now where it belongs.

The amount this foolishness is costing the taxpayers is not published, but it doesn't take much knowing to realize how much all of this has hurt our county. Let us end this distasteful situation and put our efforts where they are more needed.

DOLORES B. OLSON.

(Editor's Note: The following is a copy of a letter written recently to Robert McCarthy, director of the State Department of Motor Vehicles, by John Barchfield of Orinda.)

Dear Editor:
The purpose of this letter is twofold: To express approval of the efforts on your part to institute a "get tough" policy with drunk drivers; and to report a specific case of gross negligence in violation of the law relating to motor vehicles.

My wife and I are wholeheartedly in favor of enactment and enforcement of stricter laws governing driving of all types of motor vehicles.

While such laws must be passed by the legislature, nevertheless your department can and should make specific recommendations to that body. It is most regrettable that the suggestions made this week by Governor Ribicoff of Connecticut were not welcomed by any show of enthusiasm by Governor Brown.

LAST EVENING my wife and I were driving to Santa Rosa from Guerneville, about 8:15 p.m. A car bearing license plates California PVD 729 passed us at a high rate of speed, on the wrong side of the double white line, on an upgrade with no view of any traffic that may have been in that lane.

Immediately after passing our car and before having time to return to the right hand lane, this car forced a car coming in the opposite direction off of the road in order to avoid a head-on collision. The driver of the car at fault was driving with his left hand only, his right being around the girl accompanying him.

This fellow is a potential killer on the highway. If not prosecuted now for this offense, he will go on breaking the laws. I am willing to appear as a witness for the state in this case.

WE TRUST THAT you will be able to take action in this matter and will look forward to your advising us what we can do to help.

Yours for safer driving and for active enforcement of strict driving laws in California.

Our Boys and Girls Need Our Active Support

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Last few weeks this column and its readers have been discussing Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts. The question I raised was, "Does Cub Scouting discourage many boys from continuing into Boy Scouts?"

Last week John Youman's answer was printed. John is the local Boy Scout Director of Training. His thesis is that with proper leadership this problem would be solved. I'm sure we all agree, but perhaps wonder if good leadership can be obtained for so many Cubs for such a long period.

John presented some very interesting figures. Three years ago there were 2,268 Cubs in the Meridian District. As of last August 31, there were 1,565 Boy Scouts in the same area, with more scheduled to join when school opened.

How is your subtraction?

Subtract these two totals and we find that 703 Cubs did not go into Boy Scouts. Nearly one third of the boys did not join — probably for a variety of reasons. This is the problem. These 703 boys are missing the wonderful opportunities offered by Boy Scouts.

John Youmans offers an answer — and another problem. He wrote, "One reason boys don't join troops is because they are not invited. There are more boys in Cubs in this district than there are Boy Scouts: 2364 Cubs... and 1565 Boy Scouts. Sure, some troops have vacancies, but many of them are more than full and forced to limit their new admission of new boys."

This is a big problem. Certainly more Cubs would continue if there were more Scout troops or if information were more readily available about openings in existing troops.

Other youth groups, too

This applies to Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and the YMCA. In fact, much of our discussion applies to these other excellent youth organizations.

I mentioned this problem of "Recruiting" to several adults. They do not feel it is a problem because any parent should be willing to make a few phone calls. And yet I know that some of us are reticent and consequently some of our children are not given the opportunity to join.

I just checked the local phone book. Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and YMCA are listed. If you want information about openings or starting new groups, please call them. These four groups have paid, trained leaders in this area and they will find a way to help you.

Of course, there is a shortage of good, adult leadership, as John Youmans pointed out. You and I must do our share.

Letters to The Editor

WAY OF LIFE

Dear Editor:

It is appropriate to provide assistance in your quest for answers to questions regarding the Boy Scouts, which are posed by the article in the October 9 issue of The Sun.

The National Council of the Boy Scouts of America has established area Councils to administer the program of Scouting in the United States, and the Council serving our area is the Mt. Diablo Council, with headquarters in Berkeley.

In turn the Mt. Diablo Council is divided into seven Districts and the Meridian District serves the area including Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Alamo, Danville, Orinda and Moraga.

THE MERIDIAN District is the second largest district in the Mt. Diablo Council, and has in the past contributed to the continued growth and advancement of the Scouting Movement.

Meridian District now has 34 Cub Packs totaling 1495 Cubs, this being 204 less than one year ago; 33 Boy Scout Troops totaling 1057, a gain of 168 over last year; and 13 Explorer Units totaling 291, which is 86 less than one year ago.

Meridian District is now listing 2879 Scouts in all, which is a net gain of 122 over last year.

The makeup of Meridian is refreshing as it is a relatively new district and the majority of the leadership is also of new people in Scouting, this accounting for the highly successful operating program of the more sophisticated Scout Units in our area.

THE BOY SCOUTS of America is in no wise an organization, as may be implied by joiners. Scouting is a way of life, a living, active movement which arises and will flourish through the efforts of institutions who sponsor and hold the charter for Scout Units.

Scouting is a program to be implemented wherever there are men who are not trapped by the iron vice of inevitability, men who will devote of their time and of themselves to activities in the life of a boy and thus render a service to their community.

Now in this bizarre space age of anomalies how do small boys become Boy Scouts? How do we enlist their talent, guide their energy toward useful advancement of their own?

This can be done, and is being done here in our own Meridian District simply by vigorously following the path which yields success through success. Here are the simple steps which are proven:

1. CUB PACKS having Webelos of eight or 10 boys: Organize their own new Boy Scout Troop and recruit it full up to desired patrols. Meridian District has two Scout Executives, Henry Blaylock and Brooks Kuehl who will assist in this along with the Commissioners Staff and the Organization chairman, Jack Stellar.

2. Upon organizing the sponsoring institution appoints an institutional representative and the institution determines that he or an alternate attends all of the Meridian District monthly meetings. The district monthly meeting is conducted by the District Chairman, Joe de Maria, and it is the responsibility of the IR to attend these meetings and report the agenda to the institution. This is the most vital link in successful Scouting.

3. The Troop Committee outlines a planned program of training to insure three deep leadership, with all members of the Troop Committee completing Basic Scoutmasters Training which is given regularly by Al Mead, the chairman of the leadership and Training Committee.

4. The Chairman of the Troop Committee regularly appoints an individual to attend the monthly roundtables which are held at Acalanes High School on the second Thursday of each month.

5. THE TROOP Committee insures participation of the Unit in important District and Council events such as camporees, Scout exposition etc. and offers assistance to District officials in the planning, conduct and judging of these activities. It is important to remember that the two Council executives are the only paid personnel in the Meridian District. ALL others are volunteers.

6. Encourage the lady of the house to actively participate in and enjoy the Scouting years with the father and the boy. Our women are as superb as our men and there is a place for a controlled more rigid viewpoint.

7. The Troop Committee should outline long range planning and some dreaming for the Scout Unit. Preparation of the Unit for participation in activities and events which have stature and are charged with adventure and carried out with achievement, with emphasis on FUN.

DAVID LERCARI

LITER

Dear Editor:

As Chairman of the Contra Costa County Highway Cleanup Committee, may I take this opportunity to thank the various service groups, clubs, and the other friends who participated in our volunteer cleanup of litter from a portion of State Highway 21 on Sunday afternoon, October 18, 1959.

The problem of cleaning up the trash that is thrown on our highways costs us, as taxpayers, thousands of dollars every year. We believe this can be curtailed only by education.

The above project was our educational endeavor to bring this to the attention of the traveling public.

The committee members are most appreciative of the cooperation which we received.

W. G. BUCHANAN,
Chairman,
Contra Costa County
Highway Cleanup Committee

Oh, It's Only Garbage....

There's an old joke around that goes something to the effect that, "It may be only garbage to you, but it's my bread and butter..."

In this case, it's our garbage, too, and that affects every man, woman and child in the community.

The Central Contra Costa Sanitary District recently adopted a garbage ordinance, and frankly, we just can't quite see the need for it.

THERE IS, OF COURSE, the old argument that this provides a control over the garbage collectors — that they will provide regular service, keep their trucks covered, and so forth.

But it seems to us that such controls are not really needed. Our garbage men are doing an excellent job and are responsive to public opinion.

In fact, most of them are real leaders in the community.

On the other hand, we can sympathize with the garbage men. They want this ordinance, because then they are protested. After all, it's kind of nice to have all competition in your area automatically closed out.

But then, there's always the argument that garbage is really a utility and should be treated as such, just as other utilities are — gas and electricity.

So we come to the question: Is this what you, the people, want? This gives you an opportunity to consider the question at least.

It is no secret that our residents were quite adamant about not wanting anything to do with such an ordinance a few years back, and, in fact, several members of the present sewer board were elected on the strength of an anti-garbage ordinance stand at that time.

Well, the directors are going to consider possible revisions in the ordinance next Thursday night at 8 p.m. at the district office, so if you want to drop around, we're sure they would be glad to hear your comments.

We'll likely see you there.

The Staff Corner

The State vs. The People

By BOB RAPIDA

"The corridor of freedom gets narrower each day."

This statement was made several days ago by an attorney and I can't help but feel he is right. Each year more laws are passed which limit one's freedom. Most of these laws are for the protection of society and are good, but recently the Governor of this State and the Chief of the Department of Motor Vehicles have taken it upon themselves to interpret the law as they, not the people, see fit.

GOVERNOR BROWN is "death" on drunk drivers as is Robert McCarthy. They have a very popular crusade going: "Get rid of drinking drivers."

The idea is good — Let's make the highways safe for everyone, but by what right does the director of the DMV have to lift the license of a drinking driver after the courts have made a decision on the matter.

McCarthy says the courts are weak. He says that judges want to take the easy way out and reduce drunk driving charges to reckless driving or some lesser offense.

THIS STATEMENT in itself gives the impression that the executive branch is the only arm of the government fit to decide what penalties should be imposed.

McCarthy has apparently forgotten that the state's legislature has never given to him the express power to read the law as he wants to.

I would like to ask our legislators, Senator George Miller and Assemblyman Jerome Waldie if they back McCarthy along with Governor Brown in this usurping of legislative and judiciary power.

If McCarthy's idea is so good, then the legislature should go ahead and grant to his department the power, meanwhile over 1000 driver's licenses have been suspended by the state above and beyond those pulled by the courts and the question remains if McCarthy really has this power.

FOUR BASIC LAWS are involved, all sections of the vehicle code.

Harold Turner, partner in the law firm of Ring, Turner, Ring and Wright, has argued successfully in the superior court of this county that the state is wrong, yet the policy of the state continues.

It does not seem possible that a governor who states it is his duty to uphold the law despite his personal feelings, as in the Chessman case, can so easily turn around and demand penalties which are not permitted by the law.

As late as July of this year, a legislative counsel's opinion points out that the state has no right to act when the courts have already suspended a drinking driver's license.

The state, according to the court ruling, has acted without power. McCarthy has been charged by Turner of acting contemptuously in the matter of George Henry Sauer versus Robert McCarthy which was recently decided in the favor of Sauer in Contra Costa Superior Court.

In Turner's memorandum of points and authorities he states McCarthy's actions are unconstitutional and under all rules of statutory construction the department of motor vehicles was without authority or power to further suspend the driver's license of Sauer after it had been suspended by the court upon a first conviction under section 502 of the vehicle code.

Perhaps our legislators can help settle the issue of Governor Brown and Robert McCarthy versus the People of the State of California.

On The Lighter Side

By CAROL HODGES

Now is the time to start marking the calendar, for November will be a busy month for milady. . . . Circle November 8 if you are a connoisseur of art or enjoy the taste of excellent California wines, or for that matter, BOTH!

Together, a delightful combination n'est-ce pas? The Flicker Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center has arranged for a wine tasting party and art exhibit at the Concord Inn with Louis Martini and Wente Brothers wines and work of art from the Diablo Art Association and trays of delectable hors d'oeuvres to be furnished by members of the unit.

What better way to spend the hours from 4 to 6 on this Sunday afternoon?

A tea for elephants? . . . Sounds interesting and would truly be a sight but this is not exactly what the Lafayette Swallow Unit has in mind at St. Paul's Parish in Walnut Creek on November 10. —please circle!

These elephants are small and white . . .

Equally as interesting, however, will be the WHITE elephants the members of the unit have collected. These consist of anything at all—antiques, just plain old things, and new ones, too, that have been around their houses and which they no longer use, but just what someone else might LOVE!

The parish will be converted into a glorified variety store for the day and tea will be served, arrangements for which are being made by Inez Frazell.

General chairman is Mary Ann Gilcrest, assisted by Barbara Taylor and Ruth Barcelona. And then there is the month long series of bridge parties which will be going full blast from October 20 to November 20—a project planned by the Walnut Creek School PTA.

The "kick-off" affair was held at Chairman Joan (Mrs. Harmon) Howard's home on Walnut Boulevard and was attended by 10 board members who started the ball rolling.

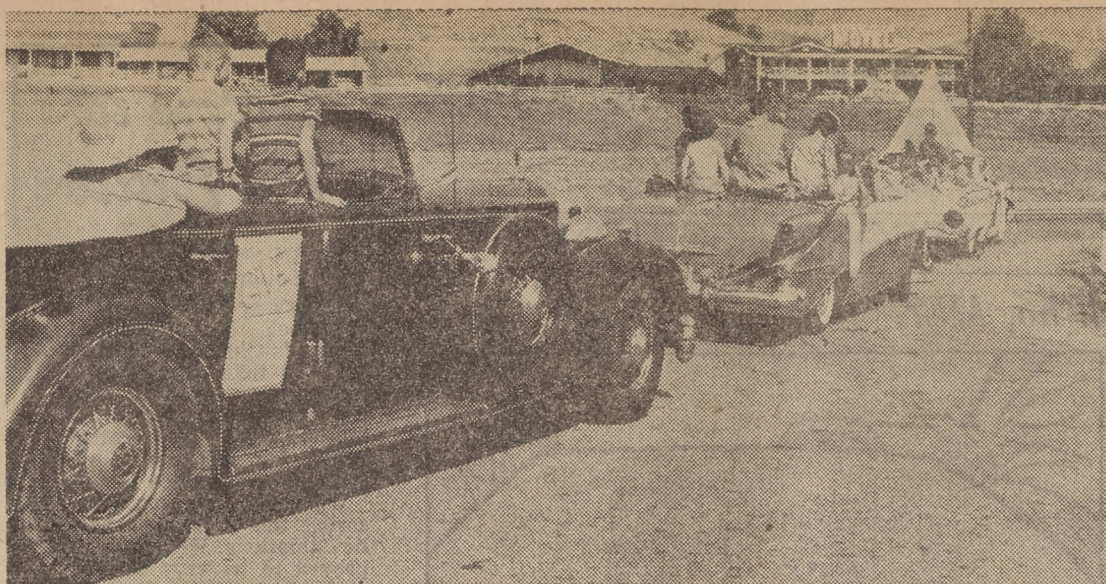

They are Mesdames Jack Skinner, Kenneth Holcombe, George Heim, Nathan Garfinkle, Arthur Webb, Howard Schmitz, Elmer Morasch, Ed Leach and M. Blackburn. These ladies in turn will invite three guests to their homes for dessert and bridge and those ladies will follow the same pattern. There will be three sessions in all. Some stunning prizes have been promised by Joseph Magrins and Robert Sawyer.

Circle November 28 for that is the date of the Towhee Unit's 8th annual exhibit tea to be held this time at the Diablo Valley College, Golf Links Road, Pleasant Hill. Both table settings and decorated table trees will be shown as usual, and as usual, will be very clever and beautifully done.

Cash awards are given to the exhibitors which are determined by judges and also by the popular vote of the guests. The fabulous persimmon pudding made by unit members (they guard this recipe like hawks) will be for sale again this year and as an added feature through the efforts of Stephanie Gallagher, there will be interesting foreign tree displays.

The Lewis of Walnut Creek has been hard at work organizing the exhibits, Joan Knox the tea tables and Mrs. E. E. (Kay) Wanos of Diablo is in charge of ticket sales.

Participating in the event will be local garden clubs, units of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, branches of Childrens Hospital of the East Bay, Concord Community Hospital, Jr. Museum Alliance, Danville Jr. Womens Club, American Association of University Women, Walnut Creek Womens Club, Jr. Walnut Creek Womens Club, Valley Art Center, the Walnut Creek Suburbanettes, and Childrens Home Society.

MEMBERS OF THE John Muir Memorial Hospital auxiliaries will hold their final motorcade advertising the hospital's $750,000 building fund drive tomorrow. The auxiliaries held the motorcade the last two Saturdays, and this is the way one of them looked in Lafayette. Using autos of varying vintage, the auxiliaries put on a colorful show as they pass through Walnut Creek, Concord, Danville, Lafayette and surrounding areas. The fund drive has been suspended temporarily to make way for the United Crusade drive.

Luncheon, bridge, and nine nice homes

Recently, nine lovely Lafayette homes were opened and filled to capacity to members of St. Perpetua's Guild and their guests for a luncheon bridge. Hostesses included Mesdames Neal Robinson, A. J. Di Grazia, Patrick Kenneally, Joseph Tancredy, Walter Markstein, Leo Pasquini, L. Fekete, Edward Weiss and Robert Aitchison.

Co-hosting and helping to serve the delicious baked ham luncheon were Mesdames Leo Kiemy, Tom Tancredy, Nick Bauhofer, Cliff Jones, George Tobias, Harry Waldemar, James Frost, Thad McCaustland, Daniel Boyle, Jerry Kelly, William Freitas, Harold Ceari, Alfred Hagarty, George Eimers, Jack Arden, H. De Ferrari, Mel Coleman, Joseph Janlois, John McNahne, John Bernardi, John D. Rarig, Thomas J. Moran Jr., James C. Walsh and Joseph Rodriguez.

Pink cloths added a gay decorative touch to the many tables and placed in the middle of each was a lush pink cyclamen wrapped in foil and ribbon which served as a much sought-after prize for those with high scores at the end of the day.

The Guild has done it again—another successful and enjoyable affair.

There is no moss on this rolling stone for the new unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, the Nightingale is wasting no time at all with its activities. Already, reports have come in as to the great satisfaction this service group has derived from its helping hand extended the therapy patients.

Not only that, but a Toy Fair given by Mrs. Jerry Wood at the home of Alice Price at the Contra Costa Country Club was most successful as Julie Davis, Clara Netherby, Florence Billings, Roberta Gardiner, Marian Love and Barbara Underwood went "all out" on their purchase of toys for Christmas gifts.

Also, the beauty counselor representative, Ann Clements, displayed her wares at the home of Florence Billings to the Nightingales and their guests this last week to everyone's pleasure and the Therapy Center's aid.

Hadassah Women Will Sponsor One Showing of Play

Members of the Diablo Valley Chapter of Hadassah are looking forward to an evening of fun and entertainment when they will sponsor the Dramateurs production of the "Hasty Heart" at the Town Hall in Lafayette.

The curtain will rise at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, November 21.

TICKETS, WHICH ARE $1.50, can be obtained at Ben's 7 Art Book Shop in Walnut Creek, Campana Music in Lafayette, or by calling the Mesdames Alex Babin, Yellowstone 4-3267, George Siegler, Atlantic 3-3263, or Leonard Goldberg, MUlberry 5-3887. Friends and neighbors are welcome.

The production is being directed by Norman and Ethel Appel. Chairman for the affair is Mrs. Alex Babin, assisted by Mrs. Appel. Coffee and soft drinks will be sold during intermission.

The proceeds will benefit the Hadassah Medical Center Building in Israel.

Alamo Women Plan 'Flair' With Displays

The Alamo Women's Club will hold a "Holiday Flair" with luncheon at noon and tea in the afternoon, November 18.

Gifts, holiday novelties and table decorations will be for sale. A pantry will specialize in plain and fancy foods.

Members will have display booths for cake decorations, ornaments, fancy wrappings and holiday arrangements.

John Wheatman will give demonstrations on holiday decorations.

Feliz will speak on "The World Trade Center and What It Means to Northern California."

Mrs. Peggie Condre will preside at the dinner at 7:30.

Delta Zeta Event Is A Benefit

Proceeds of the affair, to be held in the Women's Club in Walnut Creek, will support one of the sorority's national philanthropies.

Members of the Mt. Diablo chapter have adopted a patient at Carville, La., the United States Public Health Hospital for Hansen's Disease.

Alumnae President Mrs. John Mark has appointed Mrs. Lien as general chairman.

Mesdames William Lee, Robert Robbins, William Krueger, Sam E. Nease, William Walton, Wayne Affleck and William Fitzsimmons will be the guests of Mrs. Crepps.

Women Hear One Child in 8 Will Read Mailed Smut

Mt. Diablo Junior Women members of the California Federation of Women's Club at their October conference in Stockton voted to stand behind their annual state convention resolution to clean up pornographic and objectionable publications.

Mrs. Donald Amato, president of the federation junior membership urged the action after attending the General Federation of Womens Clubs board of directors meeting in Washington, D. C.

Shocking facts concerning the "smut industry" were presented by Arthur E. Summerfield, postmaster general.

HE SAID that is such material is allowed to continue it will spread its poison to one child in every eight. He appealed to the women to crusade to fight this problem.

Mrs. Charles Pratt Jr., president of the district, said the "Call to the Area A Conference" has been received.

Mt. Diablo District will be in charge of the ways and means project at this conference.

Mrs. Robert E. Hansen of Loomis, vice president of Area

A, which includes Northern, Pacifica, Alameda, Mt. Diablo and San Joaquin District, will preside at her area meeting on November 7 at the Hotel Claremont Berkeley.

The theme of the meeting will be "Rhapsody in F." Keynote speaker will be Mrs. Donald Amato president of the C. F. W. C. Juniors.

MRS. ROBERT Shanck, district art chairman of the Walnut Creek Juniors, announced that next week has been designated as Art Week.

Some 250 Junior Clubs in the state will observe Art Week. Special exhibits will be held in local communities and art contests in the local schools.

"Teacher Appreciation Day" will again be observed by Mt. Diablo District Juniors and the over 72 other members of the C. F. W. C. Junior members, November 10.

Mrs. David McGlothlin, district education chairman of the Richmond Juniors, encouraged each member in the district to send an apple with her children on that day to show the membership's appreciation for the outstanding job being done by the teachers in our district.

"HARLEQUINADE" IS THE THEME of the annual scholarship dance to be held by the Femineers for November 7 at the California Golf Club. Shown clowning around with some of the props for the event are Mrs. F. Robert Preece (left) and Mrs. Peter Grayum. Mrs. Preece is general chairman of the dance.

Pageant of Arts Gallery To Open on North Main

The new sales and rental gallery of the Diablo Pageant of Arts Society will officially open Sunday, with a show of paintings, pottery, mosaics and jewelry by 19 area artists.

The gallery and headquarters for the Society, located at 1533 North Main, Walnut Creek, will hold open house from 1:30 p.m. with refreshments served from 3:30 p.m. The public is invited.

Patrons of the arts will have a chance to do their Christmas shopping early and also contribute to the cultural center with workshop facilities that is the Society's ultimate goal.

Any of the art pieces on display may be purchased, and the Society will receive a commission to apply toward the center. Paintings may be rented also.

Over 200 invitations have been mailed to the press, members and prospective members inviting them to the newly decorated gallery, according to Mrs. Betty Page, hostess.

Interior decorator Barbara Winchester directed the decorating, assisted by Mrs. Baya Rocklin and Hubert Van Hoboken.

On exhibit at the gallery will be paintings by Glenn Wessels, currently in Europe, Peter Blos, Don Osterloh, Louis Siegrist, Lundy Siegrist and John Bowman of Oakland; Michael Czaja, James McCray, Karl Kasten, Jerry and Gary Gibson, Betty Pleshe and Jan Cramer of Walnut Creek; Alleene Stoeffler of Lafayette and Don Yuen of Alameda.

Also on display will be mosaics by Jean Jonas of Lafayette, jewelry by Dr. D. S. Harris of Walnut Creek and pottery by Ken Dierck of Oakland, Jackomen A. Maybeck of Berkeley and Eleanor Condon of Walnut Creek.

A general meeting of the Society is scheduled for Monday at 8 p.m. at the Walnut Creek city hall.

The agenda includes reports from standing committees, plans for obtaining additional funds and a membership drive.

Federal Help Materials Sought; Films Asked

An application for federal funds to purchase new science motion pictures and other science materials has been made by County Schools Superintendent Floyd Marchus.

The County Board of Education authorized the application, October 21. A total expenditure of $13,116 is planned. Half would be supplied by the National Defense Education Act fund and half by the county department.

Mrs. Gertha Brown, consultant in audio-visual education, said the funds would be used to purchase motion picture films, filmstrips and slides.

The materials would not only be used generally to assist stepped-up science education but also specifically to help advance science programs already endowed with federal funds in Mt. Diablo and Pittsburg Unified School Districts and Orinda Union School District.

Mrs. Brown added that a survey undertaken a year ago indicated the available instructional materials lagged behind the needs of students and teachers in expanded science programs.

"Many school districts are extending their science program beyond the present level, and the curriculum personnel have requested additional science materials," she said.

The application will be submitted to the office of Dr. J. Graham Sullivan, State Department of Education, which administers the National Defense Education Act for the federal government.

Dr. Sullivan is former assistant superintendent of Contra Costa Junior College District.

From one-fourth to one-third of the nation—40 to 50 million Americans—are believed to be infected with the germ that causes tuberculosis.

THE KIDS are getting a workout every Saturday morning in the Wanu Walnut Creek Ice Hockey League. Although the team carries the title Walnut Creek, youngsters from throughout the central county participate.

Boys in Junior Hockey League Now in Practice

Boys in the different divisions of the Junior League Ice Hockey are practicing at the Walnut Creek Ice Rink on Sunday evenings.

With the boys being divided into smaller groups, these sessions are proving to be of great value to team play and concentration on the finer points of the game. We can expect some excellent games this season. Regular league games will start in a few weeks.

At the present time there are 92 boys signed up for the hockey league.

A parents meeting was held Tuesday to discuss plans for the trip to Squaw Valley.

The Junior League boys will also be playing in demonstration games during the periods of the Amateur League in Berkeley.

New boys are still being accepted and no skating experience is needed to join the league. Uniforms and skates are furnished by the league.

'What do I do Next Pal?' Declarer Asks Partner

By ROD ERNST

"What do I do now, partner?" How many times have you been declarer and had no idea where or how to start the play of the hand? Well, if you are like me, there are many times when I wish Mr. Goren was at my side. I think playing the dummy correctly is certainly one of the most difficult aspects of this fascinating game of contract bridge.

In the hope that some of you faithful (?) readers might find some benefit from it, I will, in subsequent columns, illustrate some of the most common (and I might add, oftentimes misplayed) card combinations with which bridge players have to cope.

If any of you are having difficulty with some part of your game, I will be most happy to help you if I can. Just drop me a line or phone me in the evening.

The nationally syndicated "Championship Bridge" TV series with Charles Goren made its debut on Sunday on ABC television (channels 7 and 13).

The contestants were Lee Hazen, Helen Sobel and Paul Hodge-Sidney Lazard.

The team of Mrs. Sobel and Hazen came out on top by 1800 points.

The most interesting of the four hands played was the one played in six clubs by Mrs. Sobel. The combined hands held only 30 points but the slam was unbeatable.

The comments made by Charles Goren and Alex Dreier were informative as well as humorous. The winners received $1000 for their efforts, while the "losers" received $500. The triumphant pair will continue to play until beaten by a team of new challengers.

To sum up, bridge players will find the show well produced and effectively presented. I, for one, will watch it often.

Dry Ski School Scheduled

The Oakland YMCA, in cooperation with the new Powder Bowl Ski School, near Lake Tahoe, will present three Wednesday night Dry Ski classes for men, women, and teenagers, November 4, 11 and 18, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The classes will be held at the Oakland Central YMCA gym, 2101 Telegraph Avenue. Classes will be limited and interested persons must register in advance.

These unique Dry Land Ski School classes will be under the direction of Eric Johnson and his instructors. Johnson is a well-known California ski expert and newly appointed director of the Ski School at Powder Bowl, located one mile south of Squaw Valley turnoff on Highway 89 between Truckee and Tahoe City.

"It's amazing how much skiing you really can learn in a gym," says Johnson. "This will be the ninth year that we have conducted these classes in the Bay Area for the beginner and intermediate skiers." Last year Johnson's Dry Ski School classes attracted over 5000 skiers at Kezar Pavilion in San Francisco.

A sloping platform hill is used in the indoor classes and the instructors on skis, demonstrate and teach every phase of ski maneuvers from the first walking steps through the high speed Christies.

The program will also include Ski Movies, Ski Safety, Skier's Do's and Don'ts, The Choice and Care of Equipment, and a Ski Fashion Show. Special preseason conditioning exercises will also be a part of each evening session.

As soon as the snow flies, a chartered bus snow trip is planned for this group with final examinations in the snow at Powder Bowl Ski Area.

The YMCA Dry Ski School classes are limited and interested persons are urged to register in advance at the Oakland YMCA. For further information, telephone the Oakland YMCA, Glenhurst 1-5711, or THornwall 5-7131.

Picture Day Is Birthday Feast For St. Mary's

What started out to be plain Basketball Picture Day at St. Mary's campus turned into something of a birthday party for eager star Tom Meschery, thanks to enthusiastic and enterprising freshmen class — those same freshmen who started their college careers with the famous Operation Tree Plant initiation that won editorial comment across the nation.

Freshman Paul Gaddini learned that All American candidate Tom would reach voting age this very day, and went into a huddle with freshman class President Pro Tem John Appel of Redondo and Brother William Louis, F. S. C., director of dining room services at the college — with the result that Meschery was presented with the biggest birthday cake ever seen hereabouts, the gift of the Centennial Class of '63. The odd dimensions of the cake were not accidental. They represent in centimeters, Meschery's scoring record for last year—235 points, 264 rebounds in 20 games played.

Miramonte Rests; Rams, Dons, Knights Clash

Contra Costa's preps move into the third week of league play with Miramonte drawing a bye and Las Lomas still a game behind since they drew a bye in the first week of play.

The Knights face San Ramon tonight under the lights while Pleasant Hill charges the Pirates of Pittsburg in the steel city and Acalanes stays home to face the Scots from Piedmont.

Here's how each of the central county teams will enter the fracas tonight:

Rams to Buck Pittsburg 11 Under Lights

The Pleasant Hill Rams hit a low tide last Friday night when their injury-riddled squad dropped a 2-0 decision to the Antioch Panthers.

Key men have been lost off and on, with the result that Coach Hal Brooks has been presenting a patched up eleven the last three weeks.

TONIGHT THINGS don't look to be any brighter as the Rams face a Pirate eleven at Pittsburg that appears to be on the upgrade after a slow start.

The Rams are still without the services of their six foot, seven inch end, Dick Dole, who has been down for two weeks with the flu. George Bruns and Jim Hinds, the two first string guards, are sidelined with injuries.

TOM WEBB, the Rams' speedy halfback, pulled a muscle in the early part of the Antioch game and as a result is a doubtful starter—in fact, he may not be ready to go at all.

The Rams, pre-season choice to cop the league crown, almost have to win this one if they are to stay in contention, although all clubs in the circuit are in a tie with 1-1 records, to show the evenness of competition.

Ram Roger Foulk, all-league fullback, and quarterback Jim Maples will have to carry the load if the Rams are to scuttle the Pirates.

Acalanes Faces Highlanders at Lafayette Arena

The Piedmont Highlanders take to the high road tonight when they travel to Lafayette to meet the Dons on Acalanes Memorial Field.

Piedmont rates the edge on the basis of the dope sheet, as they rapped the San Ramon Wolves last week, 25-7.

THE DONS, who drew a bye in last week's action, defeated San Ramon, two weeks ago to give them a 1-0 record in league play. Piedmont has a 2-0 record, having defeated Miramonte in the league opener.

Coach Bob Stevens' Acalanes crew has had two weeks to get ready for this one, and both elevens figure to put out all the stops to stay in the undefeated league ranks.

Piedmont has an edge in heft, particularly in the forward wall, as well as in overall backfield speed.

THE DONS HAVE a speed merchant in Chris Rinne, who can go the distance if given a bit of daylight.

Fullback Bobby Jones is Piedmont's big threat, but he has been hampered by a gimpy ankle and how well he comes back after being sidelined early in the San Ramon game could be an important factor. He hits the middle well and has the speed to skirt the ends.

Each team has a toe artist, with Bill Jones doing the conversion kicking for the Dons and Hughes Crumpler for the Clan. Both have hit well all season.

Las Lomas Goes At Wolvesville In Crucial Tilt

The Las Lomas Knights made their 1959 debut an impressive one last Friday night as they proved to be anything but gracious hosts in rocking and rolling their way to a 47-0 win over Miramonte.

The Knight's strength all season long has been a tough defensive unit that makes it rough going for the opposition.

THIS, IN PARTICULAR, is attested to by the fact that in last Friday's game, the defensive unit scored four touchdowns to the offensive unit's three!

he Knights go after win number two tonight when they tackle the San Ramon Wolves in their own backyard.

The San Ramon eleven, loaded with veterans, has failed to jell against a top opponent.

A HEFTY LINE will outweigh the Knights and whereas the Walnut Creek eleven has but three varsity lettermen, San Ramon has 14.

The Knight's offense will depend in large stead on Bob Morris, who, after starting as a third stringer early in the season, has taken over as the starter due to his rapid development.

Jim Sisler at halfback and Mike Hair at fullback are a pair of converted linemen who have readily adapted to their new positions. Hair, in particular, has heft (190 pounds) and speed to make him a league standout.

THE SAN RAMON eleven still has halfback Bruce Weiss out for the second week in a row with a gimpy pin, while Charley Havercroft, a starting end, has a sprained ankle.

Center Mill Blake and tackle John Schwammell were home with the flu early in the week, but are expected back well before game time.

Knight Coach Duane Louis had all hands on deck and ready for action last Monday, with the exception of five who were all sidelined with the flu.

THE MISSING were Hair, halfback Tom Broatsch, guard Phil Rutschow, center John Reschert and tackle Burt Burright.

It was hoped and felt that they would be available by midweek, with the main concern being that no others would be felled by the flu bug in the meantime.

Coach Marvin Ashby Takes Wolves to Piedmont Oval

again in 1957 when he came to San Ramon High as a coach. Coach Marvin Ashby of the San Ramon Wolves has had an active and interesting athletic career.

He prepped at two different high schools, one, by coincidence, with the name of Pleasant Hill High in Oregon, and following that, his final two years were spent at Atascadero High in California.

IT IS ALSO of local interest that while at Pleasant Hill High, he was coached as a quarterback by Norm Van Brocklin, who had starred as a collegian at Oregon before entering the coaching ranks.

Van Brocklin, presently a standout pro quarterback with the Philadelphia Eagles, played his high school football at Acalanes.

Coach Ashby played all sports in high school, and wound up with 13 varsity blocks.

IN FOOTBALL, HE played guard, center and quarterback, and following the pigskin season, he traded his cleats for basketball shoes and held down a guard spot on the hardwoods.

Spring gave him a lift and he responded by catching on the baseball nine, along with putting the shot and running the low hurdles for the track team.

On graduation from Atascadero, he went to Santa Barbara College, where he was a standout as a guard and center in football.

HE WAS GRADUATED in 1955, but still had a year of athletic activity, as he played a year's professional football in Canada.

The following year—1956—he returned to California and entered prep coaching at Wasco High School in Central California. While at Wasco, a mutual friend introduced him to a lovely coed down at Stanford, and it wasn't long before she changed her last name to Ashby.

Knights Romp by Matadors

The Miramonte Matadors made a game of it for the first quarter in their league game with Las Lomas last Friday night, but then the roof fell in as the Knights rode to a comfortable 47-0 win.

Halfback Jim Sisler scored the first touchdown late in the first period when he skirted right end for 15 yards to climax a drive that started from the Knights' own 23.

THE KNIGHTS THEN scored a pair of touchdowns in each of the remaining periods.

Quarterback Bob Morris did the damage in the second period, scoring once on a five-yard sweep and again when he returned a punt 75 yards.

In the third quarter, end Rick Miles tallied on an 11-yard pass from quarterback Doug Martin, while Ken Behardt, backing up the line, snagged a Miramonte aerial in the same period and rolled 43 yards to score.

TOUCHDOWN NUMBER six came in the fourth period, with Martin ending a 44-yard march on a two-yard sneak. Halfback Steve Bowen scored the final touchdown on a one-yard smash over right guard after halfback Tom Broatch intercepted a pass on Miramonte's 10.

Morris made good on five of his seven conversion attempts.

Rams Upset 2-0 in Antioch

The Pleasant Hill Rams found the going on the rough side at Antioch last Friday night as they dropped a 2-0 decision, when Antioch came up with a safety in the third quarter.

Neither club could hit paydirt in the first half, and left the field in a 0-0 deadlock.

THE RAMS KICKED off to start the second half, and while Antioch managed two first downs in a row, the Ram defense stiffened, forcing the Panthers to punt.

Antioch's fullback, Jerry Norgel, got off a long punt that rolled to the three-yard stripe when the Ram safety backed off. The kick carried a total of 53 yards.

That set the stage for the safety and two points as on the next play Antioch end Jerry Lilley knifed in to spill fullback Roger Foulk behind the line on a handoff from quarterback Jim Maples.

IT PROVED to be the game's only points, although both clubs threatened in the fourth quarter.

Antioch got as far as the Ram 12 on a drive, and the Rams got into high gear on their own late in the period, and with passing and running brought the ball to Antioch's 7 in the waning seconds.

Foulk picked up three, then Maples was held for no gain as was Foulk on the night's final play.

ANTIOCH HAD a 12-10 edge in first downs. Pleasant Hill gained 170 yards and posted 39 yards through the air, while Antioch accounted for 125 on the ground and 50 yards on passes.

The loss was Pleasant Hill's first of the year, and it threw

Prep Of The Week

BRUCE HANCOCK

Prep Of Week

Bruce Hancock, Miramonte's most versatile player, is this week's selection for outstanding prep football star.

He goes at all positions and has played end, guard, tackle and has worked in the backfield.

He goes on both offense and defense and is a key player in the Miramonte eleven which has been a surprise with its hard play to date.

A senior, he is also the baseball team's top pitcher.

Ye Olde Prof Bemoans Fate; Promises Far Better Results

By SOSS OPPLER

Brother, the smog was heavy last week, and it really clouded up the old crystal ball.

Upsets were really the order of the day, except for Cal and Stanford, who continued their losing ways.

(Editor's Note: Don't feel too bad, Prof, we didn't do any better, either. It just wasn't our week.)

It's back into action this week, and here goes:

Las Lomas, the dark-dark horse in early season predictions, is becoming lighter week by week. San Ramon hasn't really hit its stride all season. Take Lomas tonight, 13-6.

Acalanes hosts Piedmont and it's a question of whether or not the Dons can contain the Clan's speedy backs. The Piedmont Highlanders by 7-13-6.

Miramonte draws the bye and the rest, which the Matadors need after last week's loss to Las Lomas.

DIABLO GETS BACK in the win column at Pacifica's expense, 26-7.

Clayton Valley stays in contention as they wax Antioch, 26-0, and Pleasant Hill gets nailed by Pittsburg, 20-0. Alhambra makes it win number two with John Swett of Crockett the victim, 13-7. Livermore rolls over Liberty of Brentwood, 27-0.

In collegiate circles, Cal gets racked up by U.S.C., 27-7.

ELSEWHERE: Iowa 30, Kansas

Piedmont Raps Wolves 25-7

The Piedmont Highlanders threw some fast and hard-running backs at the San Ramon Wolves and came up with a 25-7 win in a league game played at Piedmont last Friday night.

Piedmont got its initial six in the opening quarter when the Clan took but six plays to go 80 yards. The big shot was a 51-yard pass-run from the Clan's quarterback, Rod Church, to end Russ Leavitt, with the ball ending up on the San Ramon 3, from where Church swept right end for the touchdown.

THE PIEDMONT eleven hit again in the second quarter with halfback John Pfeffer displaying a burst of speed when he went 54 yards on a reverse to score standing up and it wound up 12-0 at the half.

San Ramon came to life with a touchdown of its own in the third quarter when the Wolves picked off a fumble on the Highlanders' 34 and took advantage of it, with quarterback Casey Evans carrying it over on a sneak after seven plays had brought it to the one.

A pair of Piedmont touchdowns in the final quarter settled the issue, however, as Pfeffer got away for another 25-yard scoring run and Church put the finishing touch on the game in the final minute, going seven yards for the six points.

DIABLO COUNTRY CLUB tournament for the benefit of the Mt. Diablo YMCA was a success, according to the 72 entrants in the tourney. Sitting, left to right, are Grant Erickson, low gross, Diablo Pro Ron Patton and Bob George, low gross winner. The Clayton Valley Lions Club cleaned up the team trophy. Standing is John McMullen, sixth rated pro, who was guest dinner speaker. —Sun photo by Bob Rush.
